Jaycees Sponsoring P. A. Ruritan Clubs Second Tourist Information Course For Field Day

Course to be Held at Community House Monday Thru Friday

A tourist information course will be sponsored by the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne County Junior Chamber of Commerce Monday through Friday of next week at the Community House. Time of meetings will be from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. daily, with Mrs. Catherine F. North, Department of Distributive Education, State Board of Education, in charge.

The course, which is free, is given with the stated purpose of supplying those who come in contact with the traveling public full information about the varied and interesting possibilities in this area and to arouse their enthusiasm for giving their best service to the visiting public.

The course, which was also given last year under the same sponsorship, has met with State-wide attention, and other communities depending to a large extent upon their tourist trade are inaugurating similar courses.

According to Louis E. Guy, past president of the local Jaycees, thousands of dollars can be added to the income of this area if only a moderate proportion of the season's visitors can be influenced to add another day to their stay. "Enthusiastic, courteous, and informed employees can do this," Mr. Guy added.

A conducted tour of the area, a short historical movie, a talk and a motion picture presentation on courtesy, and a program of speakers on such topics as "What the Tourist Industry Can Mean to Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County," "Historical Points of Interest," "Sporting Events," "Recreational Opportunities," "Travel Information," and other related subjects have been arranged.

Charles W. Gardner is chairman of the Junior Chamber of Commerce for the Tourist Information Service.

Robert Montgomery Spotlights Beach on Radio Program last nite

Robert Montgomery on his radio program, dedicated to breaking the hold of professional gamblers on the communities of the country, turned his attention to Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County in last night's broadcast, heard here over WGH. His program is heard on a nationwide hookup.

In last night's broadcast he mentioned some of the notorious news from Virginia Beach. He pointed out that the infamy was doing more harm than the attractions were doing good for the resort. Mr. Montgomery put the solution to the citizens in the coming June 13 election.

Bloodmobile Unit Visits Chesapeake Beach Community

The Bloodmobile Unit from the Red Cross Tidewater Regional Blood Center visited the Chesapeake Beach Community House Friday, May 26, to receive donors from the surrounding area of Princess Anne County. Miss Pearl Dutt, executive secretary, Princess Anne County Chapter, American Red Cross, was in charge of the visit, with Mrs. A. E. Ewell as general chairman for donors.

Seventy-nine pints of blood were collected, 28 of which were donated by employees of Bayville Farms.

Mrs. L. L. Dillon, president of the Chesapeake Beach Woman's Club, had charge of registration. Mrs. George C. Lyon, of the Ocean Park Woman's Club, was chairman of nurses to assist the unit staff.

Members of the Chesapeake Beach Club served as canteen workers under the chairmanship of Mrs. T. J. Austin. There were eight donors from this club.

This was the first visit of the bloodmobile unit to this area.

Candidates Review Record; Reveal High School Appropriation

The Administration's candidates' super deluxe barbecue on Wednesday night at the Cavalier Beach Club drew a record crowd of some 750 guests, according to an observer. The rally for the five incumbent candidates for offices to be filled in the June 13 councilmanic election drew not only townspeople but prominent political figures from all over the county.

Four of the candidates, Mayor W. F. Patton, Town Clerk-Treasurer R. A. Jones, and Councilmen George Manson and W. W. McClannan, Jr., spoke to the assembly, introduced by Master of Ceremonies R. L. Simpson. The fifth candidate, Henry Gregory, was ill and unable to put in an appearance.

Each of the candidates reviewed a part of the record of the town's administration over the past years along with the master plan for improvements scheduled for the next ten-year period.

Councilman W. W. McClannan announced that the full amount of the Literary Fund application ($700,000) had been granted for the construction of the long-sought Virginia Beach High School and Junior High School. Mr. McClannan's announcement followed an eonous Associated Press report, dated May 25, to the effect that but $165,000 of the full amount had been granted. (Superintendent of Schools Frank Cox had advised the Town Council previously that the Literary Fund Loan, at a rate of 3 per cent interest, might be more satisfactory to the town than a bond issue. The Council, at the time the high school was being discussed, declared that the issue would be put to a referendum of the voters.)

Eckert Top Midget Driver at Speedway

This Sunday at Virginia Beach Speedway the mighty midgets make their third appearance of the current season. Harry Eckert, winner of the last two feature events, will be back again to try and keep his record perfect at the local half-mile oval.

Eckert, with Johnny Tadlock's No. 8 Office, last Sunday overtook Al Herman on the 13th lap and then had to beat off Flash Gordon's attack to win the feature (20-lap) event for his second straight win.

Along with Eckert, Herman and Gordon, there will be many top drivers seeking top billing in the feature event.

Time trials begin at 1:30 p.m., with the first eight-lap race at 2:30.

Situated just 12 city blocks from the Capitol, the Naval Gun Factory in Washington, D. C., has been in operation for 180 years.

"G-DAY"—JUNE 147

It begins to look as if we will have a good clean town until after the election June 13. With the heat on from publicity about the wide-open gambling and nip joints on Virginia Beach, the "man-in-charge-of-closing-up" has passed along the word with the result that gambling, at least, seems to have closed down for a cooling off period—with all the gambling paraphernalia in storage. Duration of the shutdown will probably depend upon the election in June.

That is what a spot check would indicate. Several of the gamblers in fact, are quite open about the election-day date for reopening their various games.

Publicity is a wonderful thing. During the past few years, everyone has been cognizant of the fact that gambling, drink selling, and other illegal pursuits have thrived on Virginia Beach and in the county. But, like the weather, no one did anything about it.

Came the hot light of newspaper publicity—came the parents up in arms about the ratty little holes-in-the-wall that sold hard liquors to their children—came the realization that the situation was out of control, and that year-around so-called clubs were about as rotten as such places can get—and the word was passed along "Close up until the heat is off."

Right now, with the exception of slot machines here and there (we can think of about twenty-five although with this brief item, those too will probably be moved), and the sale of whiskey by the drink to the safe people in the nip joints, the Beach is clean.

A Grand Jury investigation called at this auspicious moment would undoubtedly find the situation well in hand, with a lily having nothing on us for purity. Our officials, Town and County, who declare that they can find no evidence of gambling and nip-joints would be absolutely right—for the time being.

The Fallacy That Gambling Is Needed

But the gamblers and those who make it a business to countenance the existence of nip-joints have no idea that the purify will last. They are playing the waiting game—they are waiting until the heat is off and the usual complacency of the people sets in. They are waiting for the word to get around that business "needs" this way of taking in the tourist dollar.

The reasoning of the complacent people who declare "We need this attraction for the tourist trade" is completely false. It is not good business. When and if the money comes in, does it turn back into the town?

Figures, and proved figures, show that when gambling and other illegal pursuits are removed from the economy of a municipality, the per capita savings of the residents of that municipality immediately goes up. In one community, it was shown that bank deposits per capita raised in one year more than $400 immediately after gambling joints were closed up. That means a lot of purchasing power for a community. That is the kind of prosperity that a town needs, not the flashy 28-cent cigar that the gambler sports along with his Cadillac he bought somewhere else, or his fancy Brooks Brothers suits. That is the kind of money that stays at home, that goes its rounds in the community.

"BEACH A GOOD PLACE TO RAISE CHILDREN"

The Administration note was struck by a large poster displayed on the stage of the Panorama Room which declared, along with an exhortation to vote for the incumbents, the sentence, "The Beach is a fine place to live and raise your children."

This theme was also carried out in the testimonials of various residents and county people called upon to speak. Mrs. George Manson, who declared that the women should be heard, said, "I am not afraid for our children, nor for our children's children." She said that any place is safe so long as the children are reared in Christian homes.

None of the candidates, nor the speakers, touched on the challenge of the opposition forces, the Citizens Ticket, which has declared its intention of ridding the Beach of "the nip-joints and the honky-tonks and gambling establishments" that allegedly flourish here. (This paper in an editorial recently pointed out that nine such places were running at one time early in the Spring within three city blocks.) The Administration, through Master of Ceremonies Simpson, declared that crime is on the decrease, and pointed out that there have been no homicides since 1948, and no burglaries or robberies. No mention was made of nip-joints, gambling, slot machines, and other devices deplored by the Citizens Ticket.

CAFÉ SOCIETY AND THE MAD WHIRL

By Hepta Hopter

Well, all I can think of today is the wonderful, wonderful barbecue and stuff that the political gentlemen arranged for us townspeople. It was, well, just too sweet of them to let us in on the affair.

Not only was the barbecue itself a thrilling event, but it was very social. Let's see now. Among the guests at the barbecue were: Clerk of the Court Bill Hudgins; Sidney S. Kellam, our new Conservator; Department head; Walter Maher, Supervisor from the Lynnhaven District; Harry Ezer, James Fox, Hugh Eberidge, Harry Sumner, Spot Ferguson, Clarence Hobeck, John Ray Henley, Pete Bonney, and many others. I just can't even begin to name all of them. Of course, there was the new sheriff, Roger Malbon, and Chief of Police Reeves E. Johnson.

Well, I won't go into the guest list any more, but you get the idea, don't you?

DON'T FORGET MONTGOMERY

Let us remind you again to tune in to WGBH at 9:45 each Thursday to hear Robert Montgomery and his expose of gambling and crime conditions in various sections of the country. He is hitting close home.

"Virginia Beach Is a Fine Place to Live and Raise Your Children"

LOOKING BACK TWENTY-THREE YEARS' AGO—JUNE 3, 1927

The cleanup drive being sponsored by the Woman's Municipal League was termed a huge success. Atlantic Boulevard was said by observers to have looked better Saturday than at any other time in history. The League asked that residents continue to cooperate by keeping their premises looking "nice" and by "plying the garden tools at short intervals."

Haygood Methodist Church was awarded a Sunday School Banner for efficiency standards for the third successive year; Nimmo was runner-up for top honors.

Fire of undetermined origin caused damage of approximately $200 at Mack's Cafe, located on 17th and Pacific Avenue, opposite the bus station. Volunteers' quick work saved the establishment from going up in flames.

Unforeseen circumstances caused the delay of the opening of the Tourist Bureau at 17th and Atlantic Avenue. However, the booth would be open as soon as possible, according to the Weekly.

Ocean commencement week began, with 12 students composing the graduating class. They were: William Morrison, president of the class; Marie Bell, vice president; Ethel Simpson, secretary; and Melvin Young, treasurer; Mary Cake, Homie Harco, Arvell Cappe, Ray Dawley, Elizabeth Morrisette, Elizabeth Sawyer, Laura N. Smith and Lloyd Murden.

Farm Safety Week Influence Shown In State Action

Needless deaths and injuries from accidents to farm people have been reduced, and farming has become a safer, happier and more prosperous way of life since National Farm Safety Week was conceived in 1944 by the National Safety Council.

Reports to the Council from Kansas, Ohio and Wisconsin show a definite and consistent downward trend in the number of accidents among farm residents since the beginning of the week's annual observance. No adequate reporting plans have been set up as yet in other states now have permanent, year-around farm safety committees which include National Farm Safety Week among their activities. The remaining states have set up temporary committees to promote the week's program.

Nevertheless, on the basis of past records, the National Safety Council says these things will happen before the observance of National Farm Safety Week next year unless farm residents learn and obey farm safety rules during the next twelve months:

One out of every 17 farm persons will suffer a disabling injury as the result of an accident. Accidental death will occur in one out of every 300 farm families. A disabling injury will strike some farm person every 19 seconds during the year. The total cost of accidents affecting farm people—including fire and motor vehicle property damage—will be approximately $1,000,000,000 during the next 12 months. Each farm resident's average share of that amount will be $25.00.

POP, HOW ABOUT $5,124

Could you dig down in your pocket and pull out $5,124—the average cost of a 4-year college education? Parents are finding our Educational Plan the easiest way to provide these funds.

FALLS TOP FARM KILLS

Various studies by the National Safety Council reveal that falls are the leading type of farm work accidents. Accidents involving machinery rank second, and those involving animals rank third. These studies show that burns rank next to falls as a type of home accidents, and firearms and drownings are important types of recreational accidents.

Over 800 Naval Reserve engineers and Seafarers are being trained under simulated arctic conditions at Camp Hale, Colorado. In addition to studying geography, navigation, and packing and loading procedures, the men also make cross-country runs to overnight bivouac areas at below freezing temperatures.

LET'S PUT A LABEL ON IT...

One we all can understand, and that tells us plainly what's in the bottle — then there is less danger of tragic results.

Let's define the ingredients of this "planned economy" syrup — this "welfare" cure-all.

There are people today who profess "pity" for the so called "common man." They want the government to move into private business and "give" us the things we have learned to buy for ourselves by working and earning.

LET'S PUT A LABEL ON IT.

This is Socialism — "abolishing individual ownership and making capital and the means of production the property of the State."

It has been tried in Italy and Germany. It is being tried today in Great Britain and Russia. Would you change places with the Russian for his "security?" Would you change places with the Briton, who pays income tax that starts at 45 per cent?

SHAKE WELL BEFORE USING. The government cannot give you "Something for Nothing." It cannot give you "cradle to grave" care without your paying plenty for it. What the government pays out or spends are your taxes. It has no other income.

When you are asked to swallow a sweet-smelling dose of government housing... government utilities... government agriculture... government medicine... government insurance... government education... government this-and-that — be sure you know what's in the bottle. The price you pay is back-breaking taxes, plus the surrender of incentive and individual liberty which go with the democracy on which this greatest nation in the world has been built.

"Good government has for its objective the protection of every person... in the greatest liberty... and his perfect security in the enjoyment of his earnings with the least possible taxation for public needs."
— Grover Cleveland

"I do not believe in government ownership of anything which can... be left in private hands."
— Theodore Roosevelt

"The firm basis of government is justice, not pity."
— Woodrow Wilson

"Must a government, of necessity, be too strong for the liberties of its own people?"
— Abraham Lincoln

How close have you been to a "close call"?

At one time or another, almost everyone has come perilously near a fatal accident or illness. It's a shaking experience, but too few people do anything about it!

You may not be able to take every safeguard against the hazards of daily living, but you can protect your family against those which will inevitably arise later on. For example, you can make certain that your estate will benefit from all possible tax savings arrangements and that your family has an experienced, full-time executor to assist in the settlement of your affairs.

Take advantage of the present to prepare for the future. Spend a few minutes talking over your plans with one of the "Commerce" Trust Officers soon. It will place you under no obligation whatsoever.

"Commerce" has had over a quarter-century of experience in handling hundreds of estates. Yet its broad, full-time facilities cost no more, and frequently less, than the part-time and often inexperienced services of an individual. That's why more and more people today appoint "Commerce" their executor.

Cavalier Kennel Club to Open Track Season June 9

New Facilities Added To Huge Layout Just Across State Line

Friday, June 9, has been announced as the opening date for the 1950 greyhound racing season at the newly remodeled track of the Cavalier Kennel Club at Moccasin, N. C.

Since the highly successful first season last year, spectator facilities at the track have been vastly improved and expanded. An entire new grandstand of steel and concrete has been added to give racing enthusiasts, who several times last year exceeded the capacity of the grandstand, ample accommodations to view the races. The entire plant has been repainted and redecorated. The grounds have for some months been under the care of skilled landscape engineers. The infield and other areas have been regraded, and planted with shrubbery and lavish floral displays. The beauty of the Currituck facility now matches the excitement which greyhound fans found there last year.

The size of the big free parking area, too, has been vastly expanded. More than twice the former number of automobiles can now be handled.

The track itself has also been refinished. Found last year to be too sandy, the raceway's new surface is of a better mixture of dirt and sand. Commenting on this improvement, Joe Tobin, Cavalier's general manager, pointed out that "when a greyhound runs at full speed, its paws are widespread. Too much sand in the track causes irritation between the toes. Our resurfacing operation," he continued, "will assure a much harder track. In addition to helping the greyhounds, racing should be improved from the spectators' standpoint, as the dogs will now run more true to form."

Misses Osborn, Carr and Booker to Receive Degrees at MWC

Among the 194 graduates for the degree of Bachelor of Arts and 30 for that of Bachelor of Science, who will receive their diplomas at commencement exercises at Mary Washington College of the University of Virginia, Monday, June 5, at 11 a.m., will be:

Martha Elizabeth Carr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David C. Carr, of Lynnhaven, a graduate of Oceana High School. She majored in dramatic arts and speech, was chief engineer of the college radio station, president of Alpha Psi Omega, a national honorary dramatic fraternity, member Mary Washington Players, Canterbury Club, Cavalier, Fencing Club, Concert Dance Club, and on the staff of "Epulet," quarterly literary magazine.

Barbara Ann Booker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Brandon B. Booker, of 515 16th Street, Virginia Beach, a graduate of Oceana High School. She has majored in psychology, is secretary of the Canterbury Club, secretary of Alpha Phi Sigma, a national scholastic honor society, secretary-treasurer of Chi Beta Phi, a national honorary scientific society, and on the Dean's List last semester.

Anne Morrow Osborn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph N. Osborn, of 2401 Arctic Avenue, Virginia Beach, a graduate of Oceana High School. She has majored in dramatic arts and speech, member of Alpha Phi Sigma, a national scholastic honor society, student government cabinet, Spanish Club treasurer, house president, and on the Dean's List last semester.

LINKHORN GARDEN CLUB TO MEET FRIDAY, JUNE 9

The Linkhorn Garden Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Marvin Marshall, on Holy Road at 34th Street, on Friday, June 9, at 3 p.m.

Much praise has come to Tobin and his associates from spectators, Currituck business interests, racing people, and sportsmen for the success of last year and for the preparations being made for the opening of the new season.

As last year, there will be ten races every night, Monday through Saturday. Post time is still 8:15 p.m.

Located on State Highway 170 just across the Virginia-North Carolina line, the track is convenient to Tidewater motorists. The Norfolk Southern Bus Company is again scheduling special buses to the Cavalier Kennel Club from Norfolk, Portsmouth, South Norfolk, and Virginia Beach; the round-trip fare including admission to the track.

Mr. Tobin also reminded the public that children cannot be admitted to the track area.

Fourth Annual Wildlife Essay Contest Planned

According to I. T. Quinn, director of the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries, the Commission and the Virginia Division of the Isaak Walton League have agreed to cooperate in sponsoring the fourth annual Wildlife Essay Contest for Virginia schools.

Because it was felt that the contest was an important medium in disseminating conservation knowledge to the youth of Virginia, the Commission, in a meeting held in Richmond on May 12, voted to put up $500 to be used as prize money in the contest. The Isaak Walton League, in a meeting held the day before, also agreed to furnish $500 toward the prizes, making a total of $1,000 for this purpose.

The subject for the new essay contest as announced by Mr. Quinn will be "The Importance of Wildlife Conservation and Related Resources." The contest will follow the pattern established during the three previous years and will be open to school children in grades 5 through 12 throughout the state. Entries will be judged in their respective grade classifications and winners will be selected on this basis.

The contest has steadily increased in popularity throughout the state each year since its inception and judging by past trends appears that over 50,000 entries will be received this year.

Local Lions Club To Sponsor Circus Here June 25

Rogers Bros. Four Ring Circus to Show Afternoon, Night

Rogers Bros. Four Ring Circus will exhibit at Virginia Beach on June 25, with afternoon and night performances, under the auspices of the Virginia Beach Lions Club for the benefit of the Charity Fund.

The circus boasts of such stellar stars as Frankie Lou Wood, first lady of the air; her aerial fantasy, her production of the Hollywood starlet, Jimmy O'Dell and his High School Horae; the Shaking Citizens; Capt. Eddie Kuhn and his troupe of jungle-bred animals performing in a steel-bound arena, and many others too numerous to mention.

D. M. Barry, advance promotional director for the big Rogers Bros. Circus, has arrived in town to assist the Virginia Beach Lions Club Circus Committee in any way possible. The advance ticket sale is showing good results, according to Leo Billey, chairman of the Circus Committee.

Exhibit space in the free menagerie tent and advertising banners will now be made available to merchants; also the "Circus Daddy" tickets. These tickets are for children who would not be able to go to the circus unless some "Circus Daddy" sponsored them, and will be offered to business concerns wishing to make it possible for all youngsters to see the circus as their guests. Fifty per cent of the exhibit space, banners, and "Circus Daddy" tickets will go to the Charity Fund, as well as the advance tickets sold by the Lions Club committee.

The committee is headed by Leo Billey, chairman; Ray Cassett, R. A. Jones, and Kenneth Cruser. Doors to the big show will open at 2 p.m. and 7 p.m. Rogers Bros. Circus carries 200 people and 97 performing animals.

Robert Montgomery for Second Week Singles over Virginia Beach On Nation-wide Radio Program

Jones Comes In For Censure in Licensing Illegal Slot Machines

Robert Montgomery, broadcasting over American Broadcasting Company stations over a nationwide hook-up, last night for the second time in as many weeks singled out Virginia Beach on his program dedicated to breaking the hold of gamblers and racketeers wherever they are found.

In his broadcast last night Mr. Montgomery had a word to say about the slot machines on Virginia Beach, stating that although they were illegal they had been licensed by Town Clerk-Treasurer R. A. Jones.

In commenting on the condition prevalent at the beach, he said that "Law enforcement was casual."

Last week on his Thursday night program Mr. Montgomery said that Chief of Police Reeves E. Johnson had stated that he was "Carrying out the wishes of certain business interests" and his job "was to keep conditions under control."

Winding up his broadcast last week Mr. Montgomery said that "You're a famous old resort. Don't be suckers for the propaganda poured out by the gamblers. Shootings and bullet-proof doors and nip joints aren't good advertising. Your town election is June 13th. At that time you can vote for a wide-open town or a clean one. It is your decision."

TO ATTEND JAMBOREE — Bay Scout Pumpkins Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Brown, of Virginia Beach, will attend the International Bay Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa., the last of June.

Biggest Race of Season Sunday at P. A. Speedway

The biggest race of the season is scheduled Sunday at the Princess Anne Speedway.

It's the first 40-lap Championship for the Princess Anne Trophy and a $1,000 purse.

Joe Jernigan will find that he has a rough road to travel if he expects to cop his 16th victory and his second championship race of the season. Joe took the Royal Speedway Trophy in Richmond recently, but to make sure that he will have to drive harder for this one, the Speedway officials have sent out invitations to some of the top out-of-state as well as local drivers.

Last Sunday's race had to be called due to bad weather, but the drivers promised to return this Sunday for another crack at the mighty Joe.

Time trials begin at 1 o'clock, with the first 10-lap heat at 2:30 o'clock.

Chesapeake Beach Women to Hold Luncheon Meeting

The Woman's Club of Chesapeake Beach will hold its regular luncheon meeting Tuesday, June 13, at 1 p.m., at the Chesapeake Beach Community House. Ceremonies observing Flag Day will be conducted by Mrs. Henry A. Hedley, citizenship chairman.

A fashion show will be presented by the American Home Department, of which Mrs. E. G. Hines is chairman, featuring beach costumes designed and modeled by members of the club. Paintings produced by students of art classes sponsored by the Fine Arts Department will be on display. Mrs. T. J. Austin, chairman of the department, will also present the work of Mrs. H. L. Coodson, of Norfolk, mother of Mrs. L. L. Dillon, president of the club.

Mrs. Howard Allard, local Grey Lady, will exhibit handicraft of hospitalized veterans.

Special guests, in addition to Mrs. Goodson, will be the principal Mrs. J. H. Harrell, and teachers at Bayside School. Mrs. Harrell was the first president of the Chesapeake Beach Women's Club. Hostesses for the luncheon will be Mrs. T. J. Taylor, chairman, Mrs. G. T. Vellins, Mrs. D. J. Wilkins, and Mrs. G. F. Wilkinson. This is the last meeting of the season.

Greyhound Racing Season Opens At Moyock Tonight

Large Crowds Again Expected to Attend Legal Betting Track

The dogs will be away and running tonight when the Cavalier Kennel Club opens its second racing season at Moyock, N. C. The cry of "Here comes Rusty" became familiar to thousands in this area last season.

In order to acquaint the greyhounds with the track in preparation for the coming meet, schooling races have been underway for the past week.

Interesting to note is the fact that dog owners throughout the country are clamoring to enter their greyhounds at the Currituck track. The effect of the track's very successful first season has flooded General Manager Joe Tobin with applications from dog owners from the forty-eight states.

Approximately 30 kennels are already on hand to challenge for the first place money in the ten races run nightly.

Some standouts that will appear at the track this season will be Whirley's Gal, from the O. B. Casner Kennels. Whirley's Gal is the popular dog that defeated the well known Fort Apache on closing night last year. Also back is Windy Park, part of Fred Palermo's stable. Windy Park won the inaugural here last season. Other favorites are: Wrinkles, Echo, Lightning Invader, Trump, and Benny Rhu. Some new pups appearing for the first time at the Cavalier will be Handy Ray, Garo, Bonnie Kitty, and Jim Hick. Handy Ray ran with the best in Hollywood, Florida.

Seven Local Boys To Receive Degrees At V. P. L. Finals

Lashley was State Chamber public relations director from October, 1948. Prior to that time he was publicity director for the Cavalier Hotel Corporation at Virginia Beach.

Huette Advises Club On Beautification, Gardening Practices

Fred C. Huette, of Norfolk, was the guest speaker at the final meeting of the season for the Bay Colony Garden Club held Wednesday at the home of Mrs. R. C. Deal, Jr. Mrs. Wm. W. Yorkin acted as co-hostess.

Mr. Huette, who is superintendent of parks and forestry, Norfolk, offered suggestions for beautifying the immediate area. For the control of Japanese beetles he recommended the application of 50 per cent of wettable DDT. He further stated that 24D would kill any of the broad leaf plants growing in the lawns. Also discussed was the application of various sprays for roes, asaleas, and caterpillars.

Mrs. Geo. T. Mullen, president, introduced Mrs. Charles Hunter as a visitor, and Mrs. Hugh Meredith as a new member.

A dance to be held by the Council of Garden Clubs for the benefit of the beautification and improvement program for Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County was discussed and tickets distributed among the members. The dance will be held at the Cavalier Beach Club Wednesday, June 21, at 9:30 p.m. Tickets may be obtained by calling Mrs. Geo. T. Mullen, Phone 1167, or Mrs. Wm. Emanuelson, Phone 1559-R.

Three Classes to Compete in Sailing Regatta Sunday

More than fifty boats, the pick of the fleets of Virginia's and Carolina's smartest sailing craft, are expected to compete in the annual regatta of the Cavalier Yacht and Country Club Sunday, June 11.

Three classes, Hampton, Moth, and Penguin, will be represented in both of the races. The morning event will get under way at 10 o'clock, while the afternoon affair is scheduled for 2 o'clock. The final standing of the boats is computed on total points scored in the two races. A boat receives one point for finishing and one point for each competitor it leaves astern.

The scorers are William Dodson, Jr., Al Kraft, Jr., and Tom Sawyer.

The Penguin, new to the Cavalier Regatta this year, is an 11-foot open boat, ideally adapted to Linkhorn Bay sailing, according to racing officials. It is economical, practical and easy to handle. The public is cordially invited to witness the events from the Cavalier Yacht and Country Club. As usual, there is no admission charge.

Noted Soloist to be Heard Sunday at Baptist Church

Special music by a noted soloist will be included in the services at the First Baptist Church on Sunday morning, according to Dr. D. S. Knight, pastor.

Mrs. J. Thurman Madry, of Scotland Neck, N. C., and Virginia Beach, will serve as guest soloist at the 11 o'clock service, with Mrs. McBride, director of music and organist, at the console. Mrs. Madry was formerly a member of the internationally famous Westminster Choir and sang with it on tours covering the United States and on a European tour which covered the British Isles and most of the countries on the continent. Included were appearances before the President at the White House and before royalty in several European countries.

Miss Osborn Wins Fellowship to University of Utah

Miss Anne Morrow Osborn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Osborn, of 3401 Arctic Avenue, who graduated June 5 from Mary Washington College of the University of Virginia, has been awarded a fellowship in dramatic arts and speech at the University of Utah next year.

A Dean's List student who majored in this field, Miss Osborn played the lead in "The Women" last Fall. She has been senior class representative to Student Government, house president of Westminster, treasurer of the Spanish Club, and belongs to Alpha Phi Sigma, a national scholastic honor society. She is a graduate of Oceana High School.

Model Plane Contest At Oceana NAAS Gets Wide Interest

The second Middle Atlantic Model Plane Contest, to be held at Oceana Auxiliary Air Field June 17 and 18, will draw a crowd of some 30,000 spectators according to present indications, say officials of the Norfolk Exchange Club, who, with the Navy, are sponsoring the event.

Parking accommodations are to be made available for visitors at the airfield, where there will be a display of modern Navy planes, including all of the modern types.

The whole field has been made available for the show during the two days it runs. There is no admission, but an entry fee of $1.00 is charged those competing.

Exchange Club officers credit a large portion of response that would indicate a highly successful show to Captain J. F. Quiller, commanding officer of the NAAS. "He certainly has given us enthusiastic cooperation in this show, and he is helping in every way to make it a bigger and better one than last year," a spokesman said.

Beach Life Guards To Reach Full Strength Next Weekend

The Virginia Beach beach patrol will be up to full strength by next week-end and ready to turn out its A-1 job for public safety.

Captain Dusty Hinnant, who is going into his eighth year as captain of the beach patrol, said that by June 18, 35 life guards and helpers will be on full-time duty on the sand beach.

Requirements are stiff for the job. All beach patrolmen are required to have a senior Red Cross life savers certificate as a beginning. And in addition, they must have training, offered by the patrol, and the so-called ocean test. The latter is a study of tides and currents, as well as experience in ocean swimming, which differs in many respects from pool or lake swimming. They learn what a backwash is, and how to handle one. They learn the use of can buoys, surf boards, rubber floats, etc. They learn special techniques in the water, and a system of cooperation where one guard is always alerted to come to the assistance of another in the event of need.

As many local young men as possible are on the staff of the patrol for these lads are familiar with the ocean and its ways. Most are college boys, making the most Tuesday, June 13, is election day at Virginia Beach. Up for election are candidates to fill five town offices—town clerk-treasurer, mayor, and three council seats.

The Administration forces have put up the incumbent office holders for the five posts—R. A. Jones, town clerk-treasurer; W. F. Patton, mayor; and W. W. McClanahan, Mr. George C. Manson, and Henry Gregory, for council.

The Citizens Ticket, opposing the Administration, have put up for the posts: W. W. Johnson for mayor; J. Marvin Woolf, for town clerk-treasurer; and for council, T. J. Barnes, A. L. Barco, Jr., and Roy C. Deal, Jr.

The issues brought up by the Citizens candidates center about a pledge to rid Virginia Beach of illegal places of amusements—the so-called nip joints, gambling and whiskey selling clubs, and horse rooms. The Citizens Ticket candidates maintain that there has been a complete disregard for the law in this respect—that few are ignorant of the fact that these places exist at Virginia Beach. The main plank of their platform calls for law enforcement. In addition, the platform more or less coincides with that of the Administration group: a fully accredited high school and junior high school for Virginia Beach; extension of the sewerage system and sewage disposal plant.

The Administration, although it has not published a platform as such, has stood on its record of the past years. In their only public meeting to date—that at the Cavalier Beach Club last week—candidates referred to the high school and junior high school which has been made possible by the approved $700,000 Literary Fund loan; the streets program; the bond issue voted by the people for street and school improvement and seawall repairs.

The chief variance is in the law enforcement issue—nip joints and gambling have not been mentioned by the Administration. The Administration stressed that crime statistics are down at Virginia Beach in so far as major crimes are concerned. No mention was made of gaming arrests or drink violations.

Beach Life Guards To Reach Full Strength Next Weekend

of their vacations.

In addition to Captain Hinnant, who is senior captain, there will be a junior captain, N. K. yet appointed. Captain Hinnant will be in charge of the south end of the beach, the junior captain of the north end. In overall charge of the beach patrol are John Smith, Buddy Guy, and Mr. Hinnant.

The patrol has other jobs than life saving—that of keeping the beach clean and safe for all. For that reason, the senior members of the patrol, those over 31 years of age, will be sworn in as special police officers with power to arrest.

The patrol has asked the cooperation of hotel operators and swimmers in keeping the sand beach clean. No dogs should be allowed on the beach, and no hand ball playing or batting of hard balls.

Legal Deer Kill in State Increases

The legal deer kill in Virginia this year exceeded that of last season by at least 30 per cent, with checking stations from five remote counties still not tabulated. The legal kill thus far for the 1949 season was 6,829. Last year the figure was 5,220.

East of the Blue Ridge, the kill was 4,877; west of the mountains, 1,952. Thus there were more bucks killed this year in the mountains than the 1,783 animals which were released in the successful efforts to restore the deer to all of the suitable ranges in western Virginia where in most areas there had not been a wild deer for 50 years.

Sussex led all of the counties in deer bagged during the season last year. The kill in Sussex was 702. Prince George was next with 621. In Bath, the leading deer county in the western area, the kill was 400. Halifax hunters bagged 400. An interesting figure is that for Augusta, where 274 deer were killed in a brief open season. In a county which had no deer until a few years ago.

Interest in deer hunting increased greatly in the past year and will doubtless be reflected in total sales of big game stamps when the tabulations from all the county clerks are in at the end of the fiscal year, June 30.

Behind the Scenes in American Business

New York—Ever since the war a lot of Americans have been bothered by the fact that despite record high incomes they can't buy as much with their money as they did 10 years ago. The answer, as everyone knows, is that the dollar today isn't worth much more than 50 cents. This is most apparent when you contemplate the nickel.

The nickel is already a forgotten coin on most bus and street car lines. Its last real stronghold in transportation ended last year, when the New York subway system switched to dime fares. Now it's about to lose another traditional market: telephone pay stations. In Rochester, N. Y., local calls will soon cost a dime. The New York Telephone Company is expected to make a similar switch before the year is out, and New Jersey and other areas will probably follow shortly after.

The case of the vanishing nickel is just one more indication that the current high-cost trend is still a factor to be reckoned with—a factor that prompted one New York purchasing company to ask, significantly: "How long will it be before the quarter, too, becomes just one more coin to wear a hole in the holder's pocket as he seeks some useful or desirable item of merchandise which he may purchase with it?"

HIGH HIGHWAY COSTS—More and more evidence is piling up that motorists and property tax payers are footing far more than their fair share of the nation's enormous highway bill. Recent studies in five states point out that the country's gigantic long-haul trucking industry is not paying enough money into the highway funds of state and local governments. The New Jersey Tax Policy Commission flatly recommended that an additional $6 million be raised in the state by a gross-ton-mile levy on the highway bonans. In New York state, Griffenhagen & Associates, public administration consultants, reported that passenger cars pay "more than four times as much as heavy trucks," on the basis of weight and mileage. An Illinois Highway Department survey establishes similar findings. Official state studies completed in the last year by Oregon, Washington and California indicate that passenger car users are subsidizing heavy long-distance truck transportation.

THINGS TO COME—Absent-minded lawn waterers, who set sprinklers going and then forget about them, can be as forgetful as they want with a new automatic water timer. The gadget shuts off the flow whenever a predetermined quantity has run off. . . . For night-time fishing fans there's a special one-cell flashlight that attaches to the rod, goes on when a fish starts tugging at the hook. . . . A vacuum cleaner made especially for automobiles fits right in the glove compartment. It operates on the vacuum developed by the motor. . . . Cutting down Papa's pants for Junior? A new transparent marking guide makes it easy to give him cuffs as his father's.

GETTING ALONG O. K.—With 1950 at the one-quarter mark there is increasing evidence of greater understanding and cooperation between labor and management. Prospects for continued harmony on the U. S. production front seem encouraging. Among the harmonious notes is the Union Industries Show, scheduled for Philadelphia's huge Convention Hall May 6-12. The show, fifth since 1928, is sponsored by more than 150 A. F. of L. unions, companies with which the unions have contracts, and several trade associations.

In all, there'll be more than 700 exhibits stretching over a mile and a half of booths—a dramatic demonstration of the industrial skills and products that have made the American living standard the

"Makes Bankers and Bums Afike" Says Sunbathing Story

Meat Production Rises but Income Drops from 1948

Meat animal production in Virginia showed almost a five per cent increase in 1949 over 1948, but gross income dropped to $97,309,500 from the $110,729,000 level of the preceding year, says George Herring, Extension animal husbandman at V. P. I.

The increase in production came in cattle and calves. Hog, sheep, and lamb production stayed about the same. Of the $97,309,500 pounds of meat animals produced in Virginia in 1949, hogs accounted for 251,744,000 pounds. Cattle and calf income dropped about 6 per cent, hog income 17 per cent, and sheep and lambs about 9 per cent.

Mr. Herring points out that in the case of cattle and calves, and sheep and lambs, most of the gross income is cash. However, nearly half of the hogs are produced for farm slaughter.

In the United States as a whole, meat production increased 7 per cent in 1949 over 1948, and represented the first increase in the past 6 years. The production of cattle and calves was the second largest on record, while that for hogs was fourth largest. Sheep and lamb production, however, was the smallest since 1923.

HITS O' BUSINESS—Installment buyers are helping to speed up auto sales. Time-buying has jumped over 20 per cent since last year. Used car prices, meanwhile, have stopped dropping. A spring buying spree has suddenly boomed sales, bounced prices 10 per cent above 1949 marks. . . . Auto prices aren't the only ones climbing back up again: metals, gasoline, building materials, and several other lines have also reported price boosts. . . . As might be expected, the recent record-breaking activity in home building is proving a boon to furniture, appliance, television and other household-supply dealers. It's also been a strong employment prop in these fields, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The prospect of appearing nude on a poster with an apple in his mouth is undoubtedly repugnant to any sensitive pig. But a man standing on an August beach differs from the pig only in that he is alive, aware of his condition, and probably has a cigar rather than an apple in his mouth.

Such is the observation of Wolcott Gibbs, who writes on the subject of sun-bathing in the July issue of Cosmopolitan magazine. Referring to the man and the pig, Gibbs adds: "The resemblance between him is strong, and on the whole favorable to the pig, which is certainly younger, more shapely, and has, after all, the merit of being edible."

On the other hand, the author lists these "seemingly inadequate or frivolous" arguments in favor of self-mutilation by heat:

"Young women of the better class are reluctant to take off their clothes to any really interesting extent, unless they can somehow assure themselves that they are doing it for some more virtuous reason than simply to stun or fascinate the male. . . . A girl on a beach can always convince herself that the sun is good for her ('You can get vitamins or something') and that the more of her person she can expose to it, the healthier she is going to be;

"A man with an impressive count of tan, may still be an almost total physical wreck, a perennial bankrupt, and a stupefying bore, but so powerful is the tradition that a well-bronzed skin postulates health, wealth, and strange adventures in distant lands that his chances of social, financial, and even amorous advancement are usually excellent, especially in the pallid society of the boulevard and market place."

The author admits that this theory can work in reverse at times. "The Society of Sun Worshipers is . . . also, paradoxically, agreeably democratic, since there is nothing like a pair of bathing trunks to make a banker look like a bum and vice versa."

Beware Of 'Ole So

Vacation enthusiasm frequently leads to types of thoughtlessness that are detrimental to health. One of the most common manifestations of this attitude is a disregard for the burning power of the sun. Despite repeated warnings on this hazard, annually thousands of persons under the spell of the outdoors and temporary freedom unduly expose their tender skins to the sun's rays and consequently suffer casualties ranging from minor to severe. This is a kind of folly that definitely does not pay, states Dr. I. C. Riggan, State Health Commissioner.

It is quite true that the sun can be beneficial. It is so recognized by the medical profession. Heliotherapy is the medical term for sun treatment. It is employed to some extent in bone tuberculosis and in the treatment of certain blood diseases. However, when thus used by physicians it is very carefully supervised and the exposure is strictly regulated. These facts indicate that as a therapeutic agent it is limited. It follows that well persons must recognize the body's limitations to sun exposure, also.

"Sun-bathing enjoys a well-deserved popularity. The trouble arises when little or no consideration is given to the damage it can so insidiously do. In the milder cases painful burns result, in the more severe ones serious illnesses can occur, even deaths have been attributed to this cause when other bodily complications were involved.

"When first: exposing the winter-softened skin to the sun, it must be realized that no defense to the burning rays exists. This defense only can be developed gradually by pigmentation; that is, by a slow tanning. This process cannot be forced. Attempts to do so end only in a burn. In any event, everyone should avoid overexposure.

Construction has begun on a Naval radio station in Jim Creek, Washington, which will be the most powerful in the world. The transmitter will provide 1,000,000 watts for all-weather Naval communications throughout the Pacific area.

To help Americans determine where their money problems lie, the United States Government is currently issuing at least one pamphlet showing people how to keep household spending within the bounds of family income.

But here is what the Council of State Chambers of Commerce feels Uncle Sam is doing in his own Federal household:

The Federal Government will spend about 65% billion more this year than the 1949 billion it will effect to maintain. It is expected to do substantially the same thing in 1951.

In only two years out of the last 20 (in 1947 and 1948) has the Federal Government balanced its budget by living within its income. In that time the public debt has risen from $17 billion to $268 billion.

To return to a balanced budget, the Council feels the Federal Government may do one of two things: either increase taxes or reduce spending.

But taxes of one kind or another are already taking more than a quarter of the people's income.

And as to reducing Federal spending, the question always asked is, "Where?" Two Senators, Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, and Paul Douglas of Illinois, have offered some detailed answers to that old question with respect to the 1951 Federal spending budget.

Senator Byrd, among other things, would eliminate 204,000 civilian jobs in non-military agencies, lay off another 90,000 civilians from military establishment payrolls, reduce public works outlays by $1 billion, and withhold Congressional approval from most of the Federal Government's proposed 1951 budget.

Senator Douglas long list of budget-cutting proposals include: to reduce executive vacation privileges of Federal employees. Both senators see large savings opportunities in the adoption of the Hoover Commission's recommendations for consolidating and streamlining Government agencies.

With Virginia highway travel already at record heights and no end in sight for the upward spiral, the State Highway Department this week warned that on many primary highways, travel conditions will likely get worse before they get better.

(Primary highways are interstate and intercity routes identified by route numbers of less than 600. For example, Route 56 in Princess Anne County.)

Because of steadily increasing traffic throughout the state, the department said many routes designed for the traffic of 10, 15 and 20 years ago are overloaded and completely obsolete. Others are rapidly approaching the point of obsolescence.

In most instances, no immediate relief is in sight. Funds simply are not available for the overnight modernization of the primary road network, the department said.

Despite a postwar road-building program without parallel in Virginia highway history, engineers said the struggle against road obsolescence is just beginning.

They estimate that it will require $60 million dollars to bring the 9,000-mile primary system to modern standards. Currently, less than 20 million is available during each year for new construction on the rural roads of the primary system.

Meanwhile, traffic volume continues to increase. Since September, 1947, every month has seen a new record set for the month. Since 1941—peak prewar travel year in Virginia—traffic is up by 60 per cent. Roads adequate in 1941 now are dangerously congested and obsolete for present-day traffic.

These highway department comments followed recent State Highway Commission public hearings at which a number of road improvement projects were requested. In most instances, the Commission readily admitted a "definite need" for improvement—but it was unable to program the work in current deficiencies.

Under a 20-Year Plan for developing Virginia's highway network, the Commission has established ultimate standards for every primary route in the State. The plan has been operative since the end of the war and has set the pattern for all postwar road construction in the state.

As various improvements are completed with funds available during each fiscal year, the system will gradually approach ultimate standards as set forth in the 20-Year Plan.

But, meanwhile, many existing deficiencies simply cannot be corrected until funds are available. Thus, as traffic volume continues to swell, the department fears that on many routes, travel conditions will likely get worse before they get better.

Congestion is not the sole cause of obsolescence, the department pointed out. Narrow pavements, sharp curves, and steep grades have rendered obsolete many lightly-traveled roads. These roads were not built for the heavy vehicles and high speeds of today.

A large-scale reconstruction program under the 20-Year Plan already has brought relief on many roads. Similar relief will follow on other routes as modernization is completed in the orderly unfolding of the 20-Year Plan.

Since 1949, well over 750 miles of new construction has been put under way on the primary system. Four-lane divided mileage has increased from 52 to 130 miles; mileage developed to a width of 22 feet or more has increased from 1,273 to 1,519. Despite this all-out attack on road deficiencies, much of the system is now obsolete.

Why is much of the State Highway System obsolete? Because most present-day routes were constructed in the early days of the automotive age. When they were built, the most important considerations were all-weather surfacing, easy grades, and inexpensive design. Sharp curves and narrow road-beds were but negligible handicaps for traffic that moved at 25 miles per hour.

As a result, thousands of miles are too narrow. There are uncounted curves never designed for 500 m.p.h. traffic. Bridges are too narrow and are of insufficient strength for heavy vehicles. Grade crossings, blind hills, narrow town and city streets pose constant danger for speed-minded motorists. The road system has never kept pace with the automobile.

The postwar highway must provide maximum safety for a mass of high speed traffic. Heavily-traveled roads require wide traffic lanes, easy curves, flat grades, wide shoulders, over-all strength and durability. In many cases, multiple lanes, channelized intersections, and elaborate grade separations are essential. Road bases must be constructed to withstand the incessant pounding of heavy traffic. As a result there must be more paving, more earth-moving, and wider rights-of-way.

All of this will follow in due course of time, the highway department declared. But the very necessity of the task means that it cannot be accomplished overnight. Furthermore, highway officials emphasized, is in order.

J. J. Stroman, chief of the Game Commission's Education Division, announced today that a new 66-page bird booklet describing the common songbirds of Virginia is contemplated for publication early this fall.

The new booklet is being prepared by the education division in collaboration with J. J. Murray of the Virginia Society of Ornithology. It is expected to be profusely illustrated and will include 10 full page four color plates.

Planned to be written in simple, non-technical language, the booklet will have chapters on bird identification, bird classification, value of birds, songbird conservation, recommended bird conservation projects, and will also include a check list of the common Virginia birds.

For many years the Game Commission has been flooded with requests for a booklet of this type and it is hoped that the projected new booklet will answer this demand.

Approximately 5,000 copies of the booklet are expected to be distributed to the Virginia public schools in the interest of wildlife conservation education.

Summer Is Here—and With It Poison Ivy; Here's How to Spot It

"Can you spot poison ivy? If not, it might be a good idea to learn about the plant, so that you don't handle it and get spotted yourself," asked Dr. L. J. Meyer, State Health Commissioner. "Most of the poison ivy leaves are green, but in the fall they turn a beautiful red or yellow color."

"Poison ivy can be identified by its three green leaves per stem. The foliage is very attractive."

"It grows around old buildings, in woods along roadsides, and most any place in the country. Those who come into accidental contact with poison ivy are usually picnickers, hikers or others, who are unfamiliar with the plant."

"Poison ivy doesn't just pop out in the spring and die in the winter," the Commissioner continued.

"In fall the green leaves turn to a lovely red. It is present all year. The plant bears fruit, which looks like berries and they are about the size of peas. When the berries are pale green they are poisonous, but when they turn ivory white and ripen, they are non-poisonous. Birds eat the ripe berries which are filled with fat."

"If you should run into some poison ivy, you should immediately wash your hands with soap and water. Soap is needed to get the sap off the skin, for it is oily. When you try to wash grease out of a skillet without using soap, it's pretty hard to get it clean. The same principle holds true for the poison ivy sap. Rinse off the soap with plenty of water. This usually prevents blistering. Then take one tablespoonful of baking soda and dissolve it in a pint of hot water and carefully sponge and dry the affected places. Always burn any of the cloths used to wash off the poison. Incidentally, you could apply a five per cent alcoholic ferric chloride solution after using hot water and soap on the affected spots. This solution can be purchased at a drug store. If no water is handy, sponge exposed skin surface with gasoline."

"If you contract an infection from poison ivy, see your family physician if it causes much discomfort, because the infection can be serious. Too, the doctor will prescribe medicine which will help to reduce the itching and burning sensation, dry the blisters and prevent the rash from spreading."

VA Announces Several Changes in GI Home Loan Program

The Housing Act of 1946, which was signed into law by the President on April 26, produces several important changes in the GI home loan program. The principal changes were outlined by Veterans Administration as follows:

1. The amount of VA's guaranty on an eligible veteran's home loan is increased to 60 per cent of the loan, up to a maximum guaranty of $7,500. Despite the increased guaranty, VA's guaranty payment for credit on the veteran's loan will remain at 4 per cent of the first $4,000 of guaranty used, and so may not exceed $160.

2. Unmarried widows of deceased veterans who died in service, or from service-connected causes after discharge, are made eligible for GI loan benefits to which their husbands would have been entitled.

3. Combination FHA-GI loans to veterans, which currently represent about one-third of the volume in veterans' loans, will be eliminated after a future date to be announced by the Administrator of Veterans Affairs.

4. The maximum period of time over which home loans may be made repayable is extended from 20 years to 30 years, to provide lower monthly payments.

5. Effective 90 days hence, VA is authorized to make direct Government loans at 4 per cent interest to eligible veterans in certain areas where 4 per cent home financing is not available from other sources. Such veterans must meet all the qualifications for a regular GI loan, including credit and income requirements. No direct loan may exceed $10,000, and a total of $150,000,000 is made available until July 1, 1951, for this purpose.

6. Homes on which construction is begun subsequent to 90 days from the effective date of the law will not be eligible for sale to veterans with the aid of GI loans unless the property meets certain minimum construction requirements as prescribed by VA.

7. VA is authorized, in certain circumstances, to restore the loan guaranty rights of veterans who used their entitlement to purchase property which later is taken through condemnation, or is destroyed by fire or other natural hazard.

8. VA is authorized and directed to issue regulations limiting the fees and other charges which may be made against buildings and veterans in connection with construction and sale of homes financed through GI loans.

9. The Federal National Mortgage Association is given $250,000,000 in additional authority for the purchase of GI and FHA loans made by private lending agencies, for current purchases only.

10. Provisions are included to make GI loans for farm dwellings easier to obtain, and farm loans are granted equally with other home loans with respect to eligibility for purchase by Veterans National Mortgage Association.

HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUBS

Housewife's Home

Homemakers who want to brighten up the home by painting the dark woodwork, may hesitate to do so because they are afraid that the dark finish will bleed through the new finish.

Here are some tips on how to paint a surface that has been painted: Sandpaper the surface. Wipe with a cloth dipped in turpentine to remove dust and grease. Apply an undercoat. If the old finish bleeds through, wait until the undercoat is dry, then brush on a coat of thin shellac (one-half shellac and one-half turpentine). It may require two coats of shellac to cover all spots. Then apply another coat of undercoat, and follow it with semi-gloss paint.

Why not try serving wilted greens? Here's the way to prepare them. Melt two tablespoons of drippings in a heavy pan. Then add a little chopped onion and cook until soft and yellow. Stir in one-half cup of vinegar before adding the washed and cut greens. Cover the pan and heat the mixture for just a few minutes. Then season and serve hot. Dandelion greens are especially good when bacon is added to the dressing. Start off with several slices of bacon instead of the drippings. Fry it crisp, chop it up, and then add the vinegar and greens.

Ever French toast those sandwiches you serve with soup or salad? It makes them especially hearty. Use the same egg and milk mixture you use for making ordinary French toast. One egg beaten with two tablespoons of milk is enough for four regular-sized sandwiches. Don't soak the sandwiches. Just dip them, and then brown them slowly on both sides in a little hot fat. Cheese, peanut butter, and many meat sandwiches are good French-toasted.

Do your French fried potatoes ever turn out to be soggy and lukewarm? It's easy to send them to the table piping hot and golden brown. The trick is to partially cook them about two hours before you need them—cook about five minutes in deep fat at 370 deg.

F. These just before serving, reheat fat to 300 deg. F. and cook potatoes about two minutes, or until brown. Drain on absorbent paper and serve immediately.

Among all the many "do's and don'ts" of most cooking, there is one that is more important than all the rest. Remember never to boil meat. High temperatures toughen even the most tender meat. Keep the cooking temperature just below boiling, or at a simmering temperature for the best results.

Use your alarm clock when you are cooking food in the kitchen while doing other housework. Set it so it will ring when food should be removed from the stove.

If a small amount of glycerine is added to the last washing water, woollens will feel soft and fluffy when used. Glycerine also is good to use when washing pigskin or other leather gloves.

A small grease fire can be put out by pouring baking soda on the burning area. Never throw water on a grease fire, or it will spread.

Burn your grapefruit, orange, and lemon peels in the stove to clean out your stove pipe.

Q. Can I have floor-length draperies with a radiator under the window?

A. It's easy. Use a cornice board at the top and extend it six or eight inches beyond either side of the window so the draperies will hang free of the radiator. This treatment gives a broad look to the window, and at the same time will overcome any interference from the radiator.

Citrus Fruits Widely Used

Three cents of a city family's food dollar goes for citrus fruit compared with 5 cents spent for all other fruits together, reports the Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics, U. S. Department of Agriculture. The figures, just released, are averages based on the bureau's survey in 46 cities.

Of the 61 cents families spent each week for citrus, 53 cents went for fresh citrus fruit. Canned and frozen citrus made up the other 8 cents. Fresh oranges were the most popular citrus fruit in the survey, more widely used than grape-fruit, lemons, limes, canned citrus, or canned or frozen juice.

Income appears to be a big determining factor in the amount of citrus families eat. From $1,000 a year families to $7,500 incomes and above, weekly purchases of citrus fruit rose from 4 1/2 to 13 1/2 pounds. Nearly 60 per cent of families with $1,000 a year or less bought no citrus at all during one week studied while every family in the $7,500 class purchased citrus.

Studies in each of the four seasons showed the expected high consumption of fresh citrus in winter and spring, compared with much lower use of these golden fruits in the summer and fall. From season to season, families used canned citrus to about the same amount.

The amount of citrus fruit in general used per household has not changed notably since 1934, when a similar study of city family eating habits was made. High income families used slightly less citrus in 1944, but low income families were eating a fourth more than six years earlier. Use of canned citrus fruit and juice increased considerably while use of fresh citrus decreased some.

Twelve per cent of the families studied used no citrus fruit or juice during the week of the 1944 survey. This compares with 14 per cent who used no citrus in 1942.

An automatic insecticide spray system designed to rid overseas transport planes of insects before they arrive in the U. S. has been developed by the Navy in cooperation with the U. S. Public Health Service and U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Virginia Beach Voters Return Administration Candidates To Offices in Tuesday's Election

Opposition Makes Big Gains Over Previous Election

Victory in the town election held on Tuesday went to the five administration candidates, with a win chalked up on the basis of 679 straight ballots to the Citizens' 341 even before the splits were counted.

In office again for two years are W. F. Patton, mayor; H. A. Jones, clerk-treasurer; and Councilmen W. W. McClanan, Jr., Henry Gregory and George C. Manson.

Total votes received by each of the winning candidates were as follows: W. W. McClanan, Jr., who led the slate, with 678 votes; George C. Manson, 531; Mr. Gregory, 518; and Mr. Jones and Mayor Patton, each with 506.

On the other side, the Citizens' were led by their candidate for mayor, W. W. Johnson, who polled 519; J. Marvin Woolf, candidate for clerk-treasurer, with 509; R. C. Deal, Jr., 497; Albert Lee Barco, Jr., 472; Captain T. J. Barnes, 468.

In all, the polls took on a gala appearance on Tuesday, with followers of both parties in evidence to convince the people who came in to cast their votes.

A total of 1,330 votes were cast, less than 100 under the record of 1,403 rolled up in the 1948 town election.

N. S. Tracks To Be Removed From Pacific Avenue

Bounds Says Plans Well Underway for Street's Improvement

Authorization to remove the tracks from Pacific Avenue by the Norfolk Southern Railroad was secured this week when the last day set by the Interstate Commerce Commission for objections passed without one being filed.

The track removal program, long looked forward to in the town's plans for street improvements, will permit the paving of Pacific Avenue as a secondary artery to remove the traffic load from Atlantic Avenue.

Acting Town Manager Carroll Bounds said that preliminary blue prints have been drawn up and the next step will be taken when the ICC issues an order permitting the railway company to remove the tracks.

"At that time," he said, "we will ask the Public Roads Administration to participate in the project under its Federal-Urban Program."

He explained that if the PRA agrees, the town would pay one fourth of the cost, against 50 per cent by the Federal agency and 25 per cent by the State Highway Department.

Early approval of the recommendations by the ICC is anticipated by the railway company which, under normal conditions, could remove the tracks from Pacific Avenue in a matter of three weeks. The segment recommended for abandonment, extending from Lake Station to Cape Henry, involves about seven miles of single track.

A four-lane divided highway, plus parking strips on both sides, is envisaged in the preliminary plans already prepared for paving Pacific Avenue from 17th Street to 40th Street.

Mr. Bounds said it was possible that a parkway to divide the dual highway also may be utilized for parking.

He said the long range plans of the town call for the extension of the paving project from 17th Street south to Rude's Inlet to connect with the approach to the proposed new Ocean-front toll highway now under consideration.

Future Farmers Annual Rally At V. P. I. June 19-22

Local Boys Expected To Be Among Over 1,000 Attending

State Farmer degrees will go to about 150 outstanding members of Future Farmer of America chapters in Virginia at the 24th annual state rally, scheduled for June 19-22 at V. P. I.

Supervised farming activities, leadership, and other factors are considered in awarding the degrees. The State Star Farmer degree will go to the highest ranking recipient of a State Farmer degree.

Also to be presented at the rally are cash awards to the boy chosen the Star Dairy Farmer, to individual winner in soil and water conservation, farm mechanics, and home and farm electrification competition, and to the two outstanding chapters in the State.

Other program features will include state judging contests in livestock, dairying, crops, and poultry; a state degree team contest, and a state public speaking contest. The three members and coach of the winning team in each of the judging contests will be given a free trip to a national contest later in the year.

Officers elected in 1959 to serve at this year's rally include Eric Robinson, of Farmville, president; Daniel Moncel, of Prince George, vice president; David Meyerhoffer, of Staunton, secretary; Powell Anderson, of Andersonville, treasurer; Bruce Chaffin, of Lynchburg, reporter; and Jimmie Dodd, of Louisa, sentinel.

Between 1,000 and 1,100 boys, representing about 8,000 FFA members in 24 Virginia chapters, are expected to attend. Arrangements for the program, not yet complete, are being made by Associate Professor C. E. Richard and Assistant Professor C. S. McLearn, both of the V. P. I. agricultural education department.

A band will play during the hours of the display.

Sand Beach Being Pushed Toward Seawall for Trial

Many Factors Enter In Determining Value of Project

With the cooperation of the Beach Patrol, the Town, westerly winds, and the tides, and some help from a bulldozer, Virginia Beach's strand is being pushed back to where it used to be from where it has washed.

Concerned over the narrowing of the beach by the erosive effects of the ocean, the Beach Patrol, with Town help financially, hired a bulldozer to scoop sand from the low water mark and pile it against the seawall.

The next incoming tide refills the scooped area with new sand. The bulldozer, which went to work Monday afternoon, operates only at low tide.

During the first days the area from 22nd Street to 24th Street was worked over in much the same manner that Florida beach "overly has been reclaimed from me to time. Only the worst spots will be worked this season."

John B. Smith, an official of the Beach Patrol, said a stiff northeast wind would undo everything thus far accomplished. A west wind, on the other hand, would help the operation, he said.

Frank to admit that the whole thing is experimental, Mr. Smith said that he hoped that if a successful depth of beach is built up in the present season the entire beach can be worked in the same manner in the future.

Max Lee Dix, Oceana Student, French Contest Grand Winner

Again this year an Oceana High School student of French has topped every other contestant in the country to emerge as Grand Winner of the National French Contest. Max Lee Dix, son of Mrs. J. R. Hancock, of Virginia Beach, was awarded first place in French III on local, state, regional, and national levels of competition.

As first place winner, Mr. Dix has received a beautiful silver medal of King Ludovic, awarded by the French Government. There are additional awards of a book subscription by the Le Cercle du Livre de France, a set of records of a French Literary Course, a year's subscription to France Amerique, America's French weekly newspaper, and a $500 scholarship to the University of his choice.

Two other Oceana students were recognized on the national level. They were Peggy Lou Wood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Wood, of Princess Anne, and Faye Lee Green, daughter of Mrs. Emile Ayres Green, of Virginia Beach, tied for second place in the French I Division. They will receive silver

Mrs. Mitchell Gives Report of State Garden Club Meet

P. A. Garden Club Holds Final Meeting Of Season Monday

The ban on new member clubs in the Garden Club of Virginia will be lifted in 1961, according to the report of Mrs. Walter R. Mitchell, delegate from the Princess Anne Garden Club to the annual meeting of the Garden Club of Virginia, which was held recently in Richmond. Miss Elizabeth Gregory Hill and Miss Evelyn Collins Hill, president and conservation chairman respectively of the local club, were also representatives at the state meeting.

Mrs. Mitchell brought the announcement to the final meeting of the Princess Anne Garden Club held Monday at the home of Mrs. Lester T. Gayle, Jr., in Virginia Beach, that the Garden Club of Virginia has offered a $100 award to the club planting the greatest number of dwarfed trees.

"The Maasie Medal for outstanding work by a club was awarded this year to the Tuckahoe Garden Club for development of a playground in a congested area," Mrs. Mitchell announced.

"Conservation was the incentive which started the Princess Anne Garden Club in 1927," Miss Evelyn Collins Hill told club members in recounting the year's activities in school programs, fire prevention, and planting of wildflowers at the Lake Lawson Preserve. Miss Hill, retiring conservation chairman of the Garden Club of Virginia, congratulated Mrs. J. Davis Reed, Jr., newly appointed to the office by Mrs. W. W. Butler, president of the Garden Club of Virginia.

Yearly reports of club chairmen were accepted by Miss Elizabeth Gregory Hill, president. Cooperation for the benefit dance to be held June 21 at the Cavalier Beach and Cabana Club by the newly formed Council of Garden Clubs was urged by Mrs. Lester Gayle, Jr.

ELECTION COMMENT

With Tuesday's election results in and the victory assured for the incumbent aspirants for the five seats to be filled in the Town Government, the NEWS has this to say:

Congratulations to the winners. The campaign was carried on fairly and honestly, with a minimum of mudslinging from the candidates.

The Administration carried the Town with a solid block of "straight" ballots that would have won for them had not there been the "split" ballots to add to that.

The NEWS will, as it has in the past, continue to support the Town Council and the officials of the Town on all issues which it undertakes that are good for the Town and mean the Town's progress. We will continue, as in the past, to fight and block any issues that we believe are to the hindrance of the Town's progress and which are insurmountable only for the advantage of groups outside of the corporate limits of the Town.

In this way we supported the Town in its bond issue for the school program, the seawall repairs, and for the roads program—for all of these things meant progress. We plugged for a Town Manager, although we meant the fact that the Council and the City Fathers saw fit to push it in a manner that suggested that the town's people were unfit to make the decision for themselves.

In this way, too, we fought the pointed efforts of the Council to bury the annexation proceedings under a bushel of pettifoggery, so that this progressive step was finally buried for want of success action.

A newspaper, as the Fourth Estate, has the right and privilege, as well as the duty, to put into words the thinking of the people. In its news columns, it reports right down the line—attempting neither to bias its news stories to the right nor to the left. In other words, it reports, and only reports, what happens in its news columns.

In its editorial columns, the newspaper points out the issues as its editorial head sees them... the moral implications, the effect upon the townspeople, the long view of the stories that are in the news. This, too, is a right and an obligation upon a newspaper.

The NEWS over the past years has exercised this duty, and hopes for years to come to continue to do so. Moreover, while we, to paraphrase the too often used words of the philosopher Voltaire, bemoan the ideas brought forth by those opposed to our views, we will fight to the end for their right to espouse them.

HEAR THAT JACK POT RING!

As we intimated several issues back, it looks as if June 14 was "G Day." Most of the places we vulgarly call "nip joints" and other spots operating on the shady side of the law opened up the day after election. The bookie room doors are opened, and the slot machines back in the running (although a number of those remained during the temporary shutdown).

Behind the Scenes in American Business

New York—The traditional lament of the hen-pecked male that "it's a woman's world" is gaining ever-wide acceptance. The fair sex is beginning to take over in earnest, infiltrating the male domain where it hurts the most: in the nation's job market. Distasteful employment, after a postwar slump for a couple of years, is back with a bang; the girls now account for 20 per cent of the country's work force; 18,000,000 of them collect regular paychecks. According to a Wall Street Journal survey, the number of women job-holders and job-seekers has jumped 24 per cent in the past decade, while the number of men workers has crept up a scant 7.7 per cent. Especially significant is the fact that married women are going back to work in increasing numbers—in the past 10 years the number of housewives who have swapped their kitchens for an office has nearly doubled.

This is a trend that should ring a lot of cash registers for American shops. For one thing, it shifts more of the purchasing power from men to women, the sex which does most of the spending. It may also loosen plenty of purse-strings, since the woman who earns her own income, instead of getting it as a gift from hubby, has less qualms about putting it back in circulation. And finally, there's the fact that when Mama joins Papa in the payroll parade, the family has more money to spend.

RAIL SWITCH—A brand new idea in big-time financing may be found for disingenuous debt and more modern equipment on the scratches. It's applied with a knife

Junior Women to Sponsor Lectures By Dr. Eyster

Dr. William D. Eyster, managing editor of "Organic Gardening Magazine," will be presented to the Virginia Beach public in a series of lectures, scheduled as follows: Monday, June 26, at 3 p.m. at the Town Hall, and Wednesday, June 28, at 8 p.m., in the Cavalier Hotel Ballroom. Dr. Eyster will appear under the sponsorship of the Junior Women's Club of Princess Anne County. Admission is free.

These lectures will include such pertinent subjects as "Gardening Without Diseases and Insect Pests," "The Natural Method of Gardening," "Principles of Organic Gardening," and "Soil and Health."

All gardening enthusiasts are invited to attend these lectures.

or squeegee, quickly sticks to almost any clean surface. . . . You can carry your own cooler this summer if you get a new-Tom Thumb pocket fan. This portable air conditioner is battery-powered, fits in the palm of the hand, holds the carrier at the flick of a thumb. . . . A small plastic plate, made with a slot at each end, now solves the problem of how to handle those long foot-entangling electric cords that lie on the floors of most houses. Just wind the excess cord around the plate and slip it in the slots.

1950's HOUSE—What do today's home-building families want in a new home? A New York prefabricator who spent $10,000 on design and who plans to produce 600 to 700 houses this year has studied trends closely and come up with these answers. Today's family, he finds, wants a one-story three-bedroom house with plenty of storage space. It wants durable, quality materials, such as real clay tile for walls and floors in bathrooms and kitchens. It wants a second bath, or a powder room with tile floor and a tiled dressing table. Today's family likes the friendliness of a fireplace, and the openness which large expanses of glass provide. It prefers a dining area opening into the living room, rather than a separate dining room. It wants a compact kitchen with lots of cabinet space and automatic equipment. You'll see plenty of homes planned with these features and built throughout the United States during the coming year.

BITS O' BUSINESS—Inflation is rearing its ugly head again as price increases crop up throughout the economy. Three current pressure areas: (1) the government, because of continued deficit financing—Uncle Sam is getting deeper in debt almost daily; (2) the farm, where there's been no let-up in price propping; (3) labor, as a result of high wages. . . . Gone are the days when American auto owners traded in the old bus for a new one every year or so. Car scarcities during the war taught thousands of motorists that their jalopies were a lot more durable than they'd been given credit for. The result will probably be a slow-down in the turn-in rate—leading some observers to wonder how long auto output can continue at present peaks.

CARE OF YOUR DOG DURING SUMMER HOLIDAYS

Sometimes dog owners are a little careless of their pet's comfort and health during the hot summer months. Particular care must be taken during this season when parasites of all kinds abound. Body cleanliness and sanitation around the kennel house and yard are absolutely essential to good dog care. Maists Col. Henry P. Davis, who was recently cited as the top dog writer of the year.

The development of DDT has about solved the flea problem, but care should be exercised in its use. Sprays of five per cent strength are highly recommended.

Derris powder is especially effective in the control of external parasites. The powder contains varying amounts of rotenone, about five per cent on the average. In using this strength powder as a dip, dissolve one ounce of soap in one gallon of water, add two to four ounces of the powder. The powder's effects will last longer in a solution than in powdered form, but the solution should be kept in a lightproof container, as its strength rapidly deteriorates in sunlight. After applying the solution to the dog's coat, do not rinse it off.

For larger kennels which house three or four or more dogs, dips of a disinfectant and antiseptic nature are quite important in the summer. During this period, dogs that are kept confined in kennel yards should be dipped every week in a sulphur solution. Such a dip is made as follows:

Fill a 50-gallon barrel about three quarters full of water. Empty two one-pound cans of Lysol into an earthen crock or vessel. Over this pour several cans of water, stir until lye is dissolved. Into this mixture pour five pounds sulphur which has been screened to eliminate the lumps. Stir until the mixture turns a reddish color and then dissolve in a bucket of hot water. Add mixture to the barrel and stir thoroughly.

After this dip has been used several times, add a small glass of kerosene. Keep covered at all times. It should be replaced with fresh material about every three weeks. Be careful to keep the mixture away from the dog's eyes and ears.

After dipping the dog, dry him thoroughly with a rough towel, or turn him loose on a grassy lawn and let him roll.

After more than 200 years of bloodletting and scalp-collecting, most conservation experts agree that it's a waste of money to set a price on the heads of foxes, coyotes, wolves, certain hawks and owls, weasels, crows, mountain lions and such assorted villains. In fact, there is increasing evidence that most of these are not villains at all, but are often beneficial except in isolated cases.

Nevertheless, the bounty system continues—principally because of two powerful factors: Pronounced public opinion, especially among hunters, in favor of bounties; and an unhappy knowledge possessed by conservation officials that some predators sometimes must be controlled somehow, even if the bounty system doesn't seem to be the right method.

According to Outdoor Writer Bill Wolf, there isn't any good, factual evidence to prove that bounties materially reduce predator populations, or even have done so except in small, local areas. Nor is there any evidence that most of the animals and birds turned in for bounties wouldn't have been killed anyhow by trappers, sportsmen and farmers.

Michigan has had unhappy experiences with bounties. From 1889 to the present, it has paid more than $1½ million in bounties on wolves, coyotes, and other animals—and the coyote has increased nicely, thank you.

One of the few good things about the bounty system is that it is the hunters' money going to the state, not the general taxpayer. There have been quite a few in the Pennsylvania bounty system which started in 1893. Gray foxes are increasing and expanding their range. Red foxes have thrived under the system. There has been no noticeable decline in weasels, destructive hawks and owls.

The answer adds up the same: Bounties apparently do not control predators. However, predators must be controlled at times, and if the bounty system doesn't work, what will?

States are now trying to educate their citizens to accept the logical solution—intense local war where needed on predators by professional trappers and exterminators, plus the education of farmer-trappers in the same sort of work. No one in conservation denies the necessity of controlling predators occasionally in certain areas, but all students of the problem are coming to the conclusion that such control should be the work of men trained to do the job.

Miss Maureen McGrath, Louis R. Fortier Married Here Saturday

The marriage of Miss Maureen McGrath, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard James McGrath, of Bay Colony, to Lt. Louis Renshaw Fortier, USA, of New Orleans, son of Col. and Mrs. Louis Joseph Fortier, of Tokyo, Japan, took place Saturday at high noon in the Chapel of Our Lady, Star of the Sea, Catholic Church. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Phillip Brennan, pastor of the church, with the Rev. Thomas Murray, S. J., officiating at the nuptial Mass. The church was arranged with white gladioli, white stock, woodwinds and lighted candles. Miss Diane Randine played the wedding music.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a wedding gown of ivory satin and lace, fashioned princess style with bodice of heirloom Alencon lace mandarin collar and long sleeves of lacy ending in points over the hands. The full skirt terminated in a train of antique ivory satin. Her cathedral length veil of English illusion was caught with French orange blossoms and fell from a coronet of Alencon lace, and she carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and stephanotis centered with a white orchid. She wore a triple strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Clare B. McGrath was her sister's maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Nileen McGrath, of New Rochelle, N. Y., cousin of the bride; Miss Nora Smith, of Pittsburgh; Miss Claire Markey, of Washington, and Miss Helen Dredline, of Philadelphia. They wore dresses alike of petal pink marquisette redingote over ashes of rose taffeta underskirts, large pink hats, and accessories, and carried cascade baskets of varied flowers in shades of pink.

Lt. John R. Harman, of Baltimore, was best man. The groomsmen were Lt. Alfred O. Hero, of New Orleans, La.; Lt. John B. Bennett, of Philadelphia; George P. Turner, Jr., of Birmingham, Ala.; and Richard J. McGrath, Jr., brother of the bride.

The mother of the bride wore a dress of natural linen lace, green accessories, and a corsage of green orchids. Mrs. Henry Wasser, of

New York, sister of the bridegroom, wore a dress of old rose print, matching hat and a corsage of orchids.

There was a reception at the Princess Anne Country Club. Later the couple left for a wedding trip to Canada, after which they will make their home at Fort Hill, Okla. The bride wore for traveling a pink linen suit, pink hat, white accessories and a white orchid corsage.

From where I sit... by Joe M...

Oh—My Aching Feet!

Other night just as I was settling down with a book and a mellow glass of beer, the wife calls down, "Joe—I almost forgot—you and I are going over to the High School and late dancing lesson!" Now, I can wait with the best of them, so I put up a quiet struggle against going but it was no use. Turns out it was the class in square dancing. And from the look on some of the other men I judged I wasn't the only one there who had been taken by surprise! Miss Williams and Curly Lawson taught us what to do with our feet, and before it was over, darn if I wasn't actually enjoying myself. Going back next week, too!

From where I sit, we sometimes get an idea into our head for or against something and then hang onto it for dear life. Whether it's square dancing, or the right temperate beer or ale now and then, we owe it to ourselves as Americans to take an open-minded attitude—that's even if it makes up our mind to about it!

You Should Eat A Good Breakfast, Says Dr. Roper

"The best way to start the day right is to eat a good breakfast," Dr. L. L. Roper, State Health Commissioner, states "Whether child or adult, an adequate meal at breakfast time is essential."

"It might be called the most important meal of the day. A car wouldn't go very far with only a limited amount of gasoline. Neither will the body go far without nourishing food."

"Research studies have proved that important and practical benefits result from the habit of eating a good breakfast. The maximum work output is increased, the mind is more alert, and muscular fatigue is lessened during the morning hours. When breakfast is omitted there is a marked reduction in the amount of work one can put out, a decrease in mental alertness, and an increase in muscular fatigue. Therefore, everyone should eat a proper breakfast to feel well, to do his work justice, and for the sake of health."

"This is very plausible," the Commissioner continued. "Most persons generally eat supper or dinner at about 6:00 in the evening. Usually from that time until 7:00 the next morning, the stomach has no nourishment, approximately 13 hours. Then if breakfast is skipped or just barely eaten it is 5 more hours until noon, so altogether the body may have no nourishment for 17 or 18 hours. No one can be expected to do his best work if these habits are continued."

"The Virginia State Health Department recommends that fruit, cereal, bread, milk and eggs be included in the daily breakfast. They will provide the food substances everyone needs to start the day right."

"Eat a good breakfast," concluded Dr. Roper.

Tips On Growing African Violets Given by Expert

Do you grow African violets? If you do you'll be interested in the following advice from A. G. Smith, Jr., associate horticulturist at V. P. I.

The ideal soil for African violets is composed of equal parts of garden loam, sand and peat or leaf mold. Add some very old manure or a little bone meal, the latter in the proportion of one teaspoonful to a five-inch pot. Mix thoroughly.

Do not let the plant get too dry or too wet. Temperature of the water should be near room temperature. Water from the base, and keep water away from the heart of the plant.

The plant does not like strong sun, but does appreciate warm indirect light. Eastern exposure is ideal.

African violets do not need much fertilizer. A 4-12-4 or 5-10-5 fertilizer is recommended, one teaspoonful to a quart of water. Weak liquid manure may be used, but too much may produce leaves instead of flowers.

The violets can be propagated from single leaves. Cut a full grown leaf with a one-inch stem. Insert the stem in sand and peat moss. Setting the leaf stem on a slant will help.

Mealy bug is the chief enemy of African violets. It is controlled by spraying with warm water, or by using one of the sprays for sucking insects. A cotton-tipped toothpick dipped in water is another way to remove them.

The minimum night temperature in winter should be 60 to 65 degrees Fahrenheit. At lower temperatures, African violets only struggle along.

The familiar eagle, globe and anchor emblem of the United States Marine Corps was adopted in 1868.

Rubber In Your Roads May Stretch the Highway Dollar

Laying a rubber road in Virginia. Particles of natural rubber are mixed with the asphalt surfacing to increase wear and reduce skidding.

It costs nearly a billion dollars a year to keep America's 3,300,000 miles of present highways and streets in repair, to say nothing of building new ones. So it is no wonder that highway engineers and tax-payers are watching with keen interest a new idea in road surfacing that may cut millions of dollars off the annual road repair bill.

The idea is to mix particles of natural rubber with the asphalt surface coating on a road. The Dutch tried it 12 years ago, and found that it made the road stand up better under winter cold and summer heat.

A test rubber road in Holland, after 12 years' use under heavy traffic, is still in good shape, while adjacent strips without rubber have had to be repaired twice.

In 1949 four states—Ohio, Virginia, Minnesota and Texas—laid test strips of natural rubber-asphalt. If these prove as successful as highway engineers hope, a new era in road construction will be here. And in addition to extra wear, these rubber-surfaced roads have proved that they reduce skidding.

A free booklet describing these rubber roads and the tests which are being made can be obtained from the Natural Rubber Bureau, Dept. N100, 1631 K St., N.W., Washington 6, D. C. It is called "Stretching Highway Dollars—with Rubber Roads."

Fabrics for Slip Covers

Many cotton fabrics selling in stores this spring are ideal for slip covers because they are washable, durable, reasonable in price and attractive in color and design. Homemakers are reminded that slip covers represent a considerable investment in money, and also in labor and time if homemade. Thus, it pays to choose fabric that not only suits the decorative scheme of the room but also wears well, washes without shrinkage and holds its color against light and laundering. Dry cleaning adds to the cost of slip covers so it pays to use fabric which can be laundered at home.

Closely woven fabrics hold their shape well, are easy to work on, tailor well and keep dust from settling through to the furniture underneath, while loosely woven, sleazy fabrics which stretch, fray at edges and often pull out at the seams are difficult to make up neatly and are a poor protection against dust.

Some of the most serviceable cottons for slip covers are permanently glazed chintz, cretonne, plain or striped denim, galates, rep, French ticking, and, for more dressy appearance, lightweight tapestries, drapery saten and damask. Gingham and percales wash easily but often wrinkle more than heavier fabric. They are good lightweight materials for slip covers but generally are only 36 inches wide, thus may not cut to as good advantage as wider materials.

If fabric is not labeled as pre-shrunk and fast color against light and laundering, it is wise to buy about three-fourths of a yard and launder it at home. Measure the fabric before and after laundering to see how much it shrinks and to note any loss of color. If shrinkable material still is the choice, it pays to wash and iron it before making up into slip covers.

Upper back and arms of chairs or lounges usually get the most soil and wear. So it often pays to buy enough fabric for pieces to be made flat on back and arms. These can be washed separately if necessary. Be sure the design of the extra piece and slip cover match so that these extras don't show.

An "ash can" in the Navy is the nickname for a depth charge.

"Trained for Defense" will be the United States official slogan for Armed Forces Day—May 30th.

Warlike Surgery

Surgery made great strides during World War II, and its new knowledge is now being applied to civilian patients. Of men wounded only 3.3 per cent died from their wounds, as contrasted with the 8.1 per cent toll of World War I. Deaths from wounds of the head, chest and abdomen were 66 per cent lower in World War II. According to Comopolitan magazine, plastic surgeons performed 40,000 operations without a single death.

Spread of Polio

For every case of infantile paralysis reported, there are a hundred people infected. Recent findings indicate that contaminated water may spread the disease, but that blood-sucking insects do not. Comopolitan magazine reports that infected flies may contaminate food and thus spread the disease, but they are not direct carriers themselves. Apparently, most cases are spread from one child to another during play.

Terry Appointed To Reserve Credits Committee

W. H. Terry, Jr., secretary-treasurer, Virginia Beach Federal Savings and Loan Association, has received word of his appointment to the Reserve Credits Committee of the United States Savings and Loan League. The appointment came from Henry A. Bubb, of Topeka, Kansas, president of the League, which is the 58-year old, nation-wide trade organization of the savings association business. The Committee on Reserve Credits concentrates its studies on the effectiveness of the Federal Home Loan Bank System, which grew out of original studies of this committee some 19 years ago. This reserve system for the savings associations, which now supplies one-half billion dollars of the money with which the associations make loans to home owners, is composed of district banks which have savings association men as their directors and which generally serve to even up seasonal and long-term variations in the supply and demand of home mortgage money. The committee is concerned with the policies and practices which assure the maximum benefit of the system to the business for which it acts as the reserve credit institution.

Homemakers' Items

Modern floor seals are a happy medium between the older linseed oil finishes and the more recent varnish and shellac finishes, says Miss Ruth Jamison, home furnishings specialist at V. P. I.

The "seals"—thin varnishes or bodied drying oils—penetrate less deeply than an unbodied oil such as linseed, but more deeply than ordinary floor varnishes. Floor seals saturate a surface layer of the floor and are embedded in the wood rather than coated over it.

Many good penetrating floor seals are on the market. A seal finish wears well, does not scratch with ordinary use, is easily patched when necessary, and is maintained by waxing. To use seal on a floor previously finished with shellac or varnish, complete sanding is necessary.

Aluminum Foil in Cooking

A piece of parchment or aluminum foil in the bottom of your broiler pan or on the broiler rack serves several good purposes. It means easier cleaning up afterwards. It also helps in serving such tender foods as fish fillets without breaking. You'll be able to serve such foods more quickly, too, so they can come to the table piping hot as broiled foods should. Broiling is cooking by means of dry heat. It's important to follow the rules, to avoid drying foods out too much. Steaks, lamb chops, and ham shouldn't be sliced too thin. For broiling, ham should be at least one-half inch thick. Some foods like fish can be brushed with fat during the broiling process to keep them from drying out.

Arthur Murray Dance Team To Be At Garden Club Benefit Dance

An exhibition by an Arthur Murray dance team and a Champagne Hour will highlight the benefit dance sponsored by the Council of Garden Clubs of Princess Anne County to be held at the Cavalier Beach and Cabana Club on June 21.

The Champagne Hour will consist of a rumba contest with bottles of champagne going to the winners.

Exhibitions of the rumba, samba, tango and mambo will be put on by the Arthur Murray group.

The dance proceeds will go to program of beautification undertaken by the garden clubs of the county. The Panorama Room has been donated for the occasion by Missy Banks, president of the Cavalier Corporation. Tickets and reservations may be obtained from Mrs. George Mullin (at Virginia Beach 1187), Mrs. C. W. Emanuelson (Virginia Beach 1550-R), or at the door. Time is 9:30 p.m.

Big Wedding 20 Years Ago Cost Bride's Dad 1/4 Million

Many people were awe-struck when they read that Elisabeth Taylor's gown at her recent wedding cost $9,000. But veteran society reporters smiled politely, remembering the $75,000 trousseau, 600-pound wedding cakes and $90,000 bridal veils of an era long past.

An article on "Fabulous Weddings" in the June issue of Cosmopolitan magazine says that New York society editor Barclay Beekman "is unable to recall any really impressive weddings in this country since 1928. That was the year of the Estelle Manville-Count Folke Bernadotte marriage, which cost the bride's father $750,000."

The author attributes the decline in lavish weddings to the rise of the income tax and the lowering of the dollar value. For instance, at a recent reception,

200 guests were served canapés, champagne, ice cream and cake. The bill came to $7,000. "Imagine," said the caterer, "what you would have got for seven thousand dollars in 1910!"

According to the article, when Marjorie Close Post Hutton Davies was married the third time, she ordered a 300-pound cake with icing the exact shade of her pink gown. The cake cost $7.50 for each slice. The wedding took place in an apartment loaded with chrysanthemums, each blossom dyed the color of the dress and cake. It cost two dollars to dye each blossom.

But it was Mrs. Davies' daughter who, at her own wedding, wore a veil of Hamburg lace that cost $60,000. It was the same veil Princess Elisabeth wore in 1864 when she was married to Franz

Just of Austria.

When Gladys Vanderbilt wed Count Lando Bernadotte in 1908, she had a seventy-piece orchestra, a male quartet and a boys' choir. The grand ballroom of the Vanderbilt chateau was decorated for a sumptuous breakfast with mammoth grotesques of pink and mauve orchids. Later in the afternoon, the flowery caverns were lighted with artificial sunsets. It was said that the bride's trousseau cost $75,000.

A 600-pound wedding cake featured the Manville-Bernadotte nuptials. It was a four-tier masterpiece with a replica of the Temple of Love in the Garden of Versailles on top. Around the outside of the cake, there was a winding staircase and, mounting the stairs was a tiny duplication of every member of the wedding party, exact to the tiniest detail.

The Manville-Bernadotte reception was held in a patio, which was protected from the December chill by hot-air furnaces specially installed for the occasion. The midfield of the Manville private race track was converted into a floodlighted parking space for the guests' cars. A series of special trains carried others of the one thousand guests from New York to the Manville suburban home.

Some of the fabulous weddings of the past had their humorous aspects. When Alice Roosevelt married Nicholas Longworth, her father, Theodore Roosevelt, staged a reception in the White House and Alice received many costly gifts from all the royal families of Europe. The mayor of Santiago, Cuba, wanted to give her San Juan Hill, which her father's famous Rough Riders had captured in the Spanish-American War. But the Cuban government decided that a $25,000 diamond neck-

Troyouts for Ye Beare And Ye Cubb Theatre Begin Sunday Night

Preliminary troyout readings for the four comedies Ye Beare and Ye Cubb, professional touring summer theatre, plans to present during the months of July and August in the Hampton Roads area, will be held Sunday night, June 18, at 8 o'clock, at the Virginia Beach Community Theatre rehearsal hall in the Community House.

There will be parts open for boys and girls, and men and women of all ages. Anyone who is interested in reading for these parts is cordially invited to attend the meeting on Sunday night.

Rehearsals for the first play, "See How They Run," a farce comedy, will begin Monday, June 20, in the same building, where rehearsals for all four plays will be held.

Ye Beare and Ye Cubb's season will include, in addition to "See How They Run," Samson Raphaelson's "The Perfect Marriage," "Be It Ever So Humble," "An Acquaintance," and Noel Coward's "The original farce comedy by Paul Lowe It to You."

June is Dairy Month

IT WOULD be difficult to estimate how greatly America's high standard of health is directly due to our dairy farmers and milk distributors.

For milk is more lavishly available to more families in America, and at lower cost, than in any other country.

It is the best milk in the world, and abundant supply plus our system of low-cost distribution, create a standard which is a model for the world. One out of every 15 U. S. families is dependent on milk for a livelihood, and 1949 cash farm income from milk, in Virginia, West Virginia and North Carolina alone, totalled $122,162,000.

A situation so mutually favorable to producer, distributor and consumer could exist only under our free enterprise system.

And electricity, supplied by business-managed, tax-paying utilities such as VEPCO, helps make the modern dairy farm a land of milk—and money!

Thanks to cheap Electricity—this tremendous dairy investment and the health of the families in VEPCOland are both protected by electric refrigeration and hot-water-by-wire.

lace would be a more appropriate gift.

One of Hollywood's biggest weddings was the one staged by Sam Goldwyn for Vilma Banky and Rod La Rocque. When one actor insisted upon a slice from one of the several dozen uncarved turkeys, the chef told him it was tough. Suspecting something, the actor persisted until the chef, according to the story, finally admitted that most of the turkeys were cardboard facsimiles from the Goldwyn studio prop department. A rumor that most of the caviar was oiled bird shot was never proved.

Your Steering Wheel Is Wheel of Chance-With Your Life at Stake

Don't make your steering wheel a wheel of chance—because you are your life!

That advice came from the National Safety Council as the nation approached the Fourth of July holiday, one of the most dangerous periods of the year.

With traffic fatalities on the increase this year—up 9 per cent so far—the Council is coordinating a nationwide campaign to hold down the usual upsurge in Independence Day accidental deaths. One hundred and sixty-three national organizations, as well as state and city public officials, are cooperating in the effort.

Last Fourth of July almost 700 persons were killed by accidents of all kinds during the three-day holiday. Many more died later as the result of injuries received during the celebration. Traffic accidents were the chief killer, alone accounting for about 300 deaths.

The Council expects more pleasure-seeking motorists to pile into more cars and roll up more miles on this holiday and the week-end preceding it than ever before in the country's history. For many it will be a four-day vacation. More than 36 million motor vehicles will be on the move.

The increasing number of new cars on the road and the substantial rise in gasoline consumption this year indicate a heavy death toll—unless everyone is fully aware of the holiday hazards and makes a real effort to avoid them.

"Holidays are hazard days," said Ned H. Dearborn, president of the Council. "When you take a chance on the highway you are gambling—and the stakes are human lives. You can't afford to lose in this game."

"Police and those who have authoritative control over public safety will be especially alert and vigorous in their enforcement of one rule of public behavior. But they can't police every mile of every highway. The individual must police himself."

"If everyone would keep in mind the words 'Take It Easy on the Fourth—Be Alive on the Fifth,' this Fourth of July would bring much less tragedy and much more pleasure."

The scarlet stripe on the dress blue trousers of Marine Corps officers and non-commissioned officers commemorates the blood shed by Marines who fought at Chapultepec during the Mexican War.

Two Marine aviators, flying from Wake Island while it was being attacked by the Japanese, sank an enemy cruiser on December 11, 1941—the first time in history fighter planes alone had sunk a capital ship.

"Newspaper Advertising Best Medium," Says Speaker At N. C. Savings, Loan Convention Here

John H. Ryder Speaks At Closing Session At Cavalier Hotel

"Newspaper advertising is by far the best medium" for getting to the public the true facts in a great educational program to make available more good homes to the average man and at lower cost through private enterprise. This was the message of John H. Ryder, of New York, to the closing session of the North Carolina Savings and Loan League Convention at the Cavalier Hotel on Wednesday.

Mr. Ryder, who is president of Norm Advertising, Inc., of New York, and vice president of the Advertising Club of New York as well as chairman of the board of Local Trademarks, Inc., urged the assembled Savings and Loan executives to enter on a vast educational job through advertising. This job is needed, he pointed out, in order to make available more good homes to the average man and at lower cost through private enterprise rather than through the wasteful and vastly more expensive "charity housing" project currently being offered by the government.

"Let's call a spade a spade and refer to this so-called public housing program by its right name—Charity Housing," said Mr. Ryder as he attacked the wastefulness and high cost of this program to the taxpayer.

Many people are still living in substandard housing, despite the fact that their incomes have materially increased. This is largely through lack of proper information on the part of these people who want and need homes. Numbers of people believe that building materials are in short supply—others think building costs are too high. "The facts are just opposite," said Mr. Ryder. "Most building materials are plentiful and while building costs are up, percentage-wise, they are lower now than they were in 1939. Building costs are still lower, percentage-wise, than wages, food, clothing, and costs of government."

"Such misconceptions can be corrected only by telling the public the facts," stated Mr. Ryder, and he added that a well planned advertising program is the best, quickest and most inexpensive way of accomplishing this.

Newspaper advertising is by far the best medium," he continued. "It is the basic advertising medium. Upon its success in a large measure depends the success of all your other promotional efforts. When you plan your advertising budget, don't try to spread it over every other medium you can think of. Make sure you do a good job—allow enough money for your newspaper campaign and then go on to another and so on as your budget permits. Remember that if you spread it too thin you're just going through the motions—you are not advertising."

Bass Season Now Open in State; Fish Plentiful in Back Bay

Old Dominion fishermen can start checking over their collection of favorite bass lures and plugs anytime now, for Virginia's top game fish, the black bass, became legal sport again with the opening of the season on June 20.

New regulations this year set the bag limit at 8 per day, 150 a season with a size limit of 10 inches. The season runs until December 31 west of the Blue Ridge and until March 15 of 1961 east of the Blue Ridge.

According to G. W. Buller, chief of the Fish Division of the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries, 1960 should be a good year for the fishermen. Commission hatcheries stocked the streams of the state heavily since last season, together, 44,450 small-mouth bass and 83,000 largemouths have been placed in suitable public waters throughout the Commonwealth. These figures, high as they are, are expected to be considerably increased in future years, when a new smallmouth bass hatchery now under construction in Smyth County is finished and adds its output to the total.

Mr. Buller stated that crowds are expected to be very heavy at the new Commission-built pond, Lake Gordon in Mecklenburg

Junior Amateur Golf Tournament Here July 6, 7

Jaycee Sponsored Event to Be Held on Cavalier Course

The fifth annual Virginia State Junior Amateur Golf Tournament will be played July 6 and 7 at the Cavalier Yacht and Country Club, according to an announcement by J. Frank Malbon, tournament chairman for the Princess Anne County-Virginia Beach Junior Chamber of Commerce, the sponsors.

The Jaycees anticipate a better-than-ever showing of young players throughout the State. Buddy Rames, winner of last year's State Junior Open, will be on hand to defend his title.

Eligible for play are all boys not yet 19 years old by July 15, 1960, who qualified in local tournaments.

The winners of the four top spots will be eligible for the National Junior Amateur which will take place late in the summer.

The tournament will be played by the U. S. Golf Association rules, plus any local rules deemed necessary by the local pro. The course will be open to the entries all day Wednesday, July 6, for practice rounds.

The young golfers will be guests at lunch at the club on Thursday and Friday, and at a banquet on Thursday evening, followed by a dance.

Starting times and pairings will be posted early Thursday morning. Entries should be mailed directly to J. Frank Malbon, Oceana.

Bass Season Now Open in State; Fish Plentiful in Back Bay

County. Completed and stocked in the past year, June 20 saw the first day of fishing in its history. The lake itself is a 157-acre impoundment near South Hill. Most of the bass and bream placed in the lake were adult size fish in order to supply a good breeding stock to the waters.

Lake Gordon is the first of the fish ponds to be finished and opened to the public under the Commission's ambitious new program which calls for a pond a year over a five year period. Its use and the amount of success it meets with will be watched with interest.

Other famous Virginia waters are expected to draw their quota of anglers along this year, according to the Fish Division chief. The Shenandoah, the Holston and the James are well known for their smallmouth fishing and the Chickahominy has no peer in the largemouth realm. The Tidewater area is famous the country over for its bass fishing.

Virginia anglers are fortunate in having so great a choice of good bass water within the borders of the state, and the Commission's long range stocking program is geared to maintain the fishing at its present high level.

Blanchard Wins Model Airplane Contest at Oceana

High Winds Take Heavy Toll of Miniature Craft

W. S. Blanchard, 26, of Hampton, Virginia, won almost all honors in the Mid-Atlantic Model Airplane Contest held at NAAS, Oceana, Saturday and Sunday, June 17 and 18.

Blanchard, a former combat pilot, hails originally from Norfolk, and is now employed at the Langley Air Force Base, where he builds scale models of Air Force planes which are tested in the wind tunnel there.

The Postman goes for a walk on his day off, so Blanchard builds model planes as a hobby. His hobby paid off to the tune of eight model motors, five trophies, and two television sets. Blanchard won the two TV sets in the control line and free flight events, but the rules stated that the two sets could not be won by the same person, so that was his choice of the television sets. Gerald Walberg, 16-year-old student of Norview High School received the second TV set.

A large variety of models were entered in the various events—everything from rubber band motors to model jets were seen—but many of the models, representing long hours of work on the part of the contestants, cracked up due to the high gusts of wind.

During the free flight events a rubber band powered model looked as though it was going to be the winner, but a gust of wind made it the loser to a gasoline powered model. In this particular event two models had a spectacular mid-air crash on takeoff.

Among the exhibits on display during the two day event were various types of Naval Aircraft, including the F4F "Fighting Corsair," F3H "Phantom," F3H "Phantom," a J-49 jet engine, and an R-3600 reciprocating engine. The miniature carrier USS Naval Air Reserve and a radio-controlled drone were also on display. This event was sponsored jointly by the Exchange Club of Norfolk and the Naval Air Reserve, with the cooperation of the U. S. Navy which made the facilities of NAAS, Oceana available for the meet.

GALLIE CHURCH TO HOLD SPECIAL COMMUNION

A service of Holy Communion will be held at Gallie Episcopal Church at 10:30 a.m. Saturday, June 24, celebrating the Feast of St. John the Baptist.

Visitors and new comers to the Beach are invited.

Channel Marked for Yachtsmen From Lynnhaven Inlet to Beach

Yachtsmen desiring to visit Virginia Beach will now find an unbroken line of channel markers extending from Lynnhaven Inlet to Linkhorn Bay. Seven daybeacons, four red and three black, have been erected in the winding channel of Long Creek between Lynnhaven Inlet and the Beach Canal. These beacons were established by the U. S. Coast Guard as the result of an application presented last winter over the signatures of fifty local boatowners.

Six additional beacons, three in Broad Bay and three in Linkhorn Bay, were contracted for by the Beach Channel Association, Inc. These markers are identical with those erected by the Coast Guard and the work was done by the same contractor. All will be numbered and equipped with reflectors.

While the beacons established by the Association are private markers, permission for their erection was given by the Coast Guard and it is hoped that this service will be taken over by this service at a later date. Assurance has been given unofficially that all of these beacons will appear on future charts of the area.

Use of this channel is at present limited to boats requiring not over three feet draft and less than

Mrs. T. D. Birchett, of Petersburg, state president of the American War Mothers, was a guest for the presentation.

Present also for the event was Mrs. H. W. Newsome, assistant leader of Troop 202, who conducted the contest within the Chesapeake Beach Scout Troops.

Council Also Names Dusch and Vail to Traffic Committee

The next move on the petition to push forward the curfew on beer taverns from 11 p.m. to 1 a.m. during the summer months must come from the Richmond office of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board, according to the ABC's Norfolk office.

A petition, signed by 35 tavern keepers at Virginia Beach, this week received the nod of approval from the Town Council meeting on Tuesday.

The petitioners would move the closing hour in places selling beer from 11 p.m. to 1 a.m. in the three summer months, and in the period from September through May to midnight.

The ABC office in Norfolk said that it would be up to the State office to decide whether a public hearing is in order or whether the decision would come directly from them.

The petitioners declared that the more had the approval of the Chief of Police, the Chamber of Commerce, the Restaurant Association and the Commandant of the Oceana Naval Auxiliary Air Station.

An extension of the hours for serving beer was declared necessary in the petition "for the preservation of the tourist trade, to promote and be conducive to temperance, to provide suitable places for consumption of beer, and as a measure to keep the town free from empty beer containers in the streets and yards."

Councilman H. E. Halstead said the Navy was in "full accord" with the move.

Traffic Committee

The Council also named two of a three-man traffic advisory committee, which is being set up to work with the Police Department in attempting to solve the Beach traffic problem. Frank A. Cuch was named chairman and Capt. L. A. Vail the second member of the group. The third man will be appointed later.

Describing the traffic problem as especially serious on week-ends, Chief of Police Reeves E. Johnson said the Beach soon will have to resort to off-the-street parking. The councilman said that the parking problem on Atlantic Avenue had gotten out of hand and that parking was "impossible" between Pacific and Atlantic avenues on side streets.

Councilman W. W. McClannan said that with the help of private citizens, some free off-the-street parking lots are now available. Housing Obstacles Cleared Town Engineer Carroll Bounds reported that a housing project of 66 units in the South Virginia Beach area will go forward. He said that the builder, Sol Halprin, had agreed to stand the cost of installation of sewage lines. That was the only thing which was holding up an FHA allotment, he said.

In reporting on the progress of the town's plans for a high school building, Councilman McClannan said that Engineer Bounds will estimate architectural costs and the extra costs of providing sewage and water at the school site. As soon as the figures are prepared, Mr. McClannan said a special meeting of the council will be called.

Three of the town's six councilmen were absent from the meeting which had been postponed from June 13, when the town election was held. They were George C. Manson, H. L. Gregory, and R. G. Barr, Jr.

ROY CASTER, JR., AT GAY VALLEY CAMP, IN N. C.

THE GREAT STYMIE

Frankly, we are more than a bit in a quandary as to the direction we must turn in our continuing fight to bring our community to cleanse itself of the element of corruption and connivance indicated by the continued existence of the joint joints, whiskey pedlars, bookies, and numbers bums.

The police are no help, for they must be aware of the situation, yet do nothing. The officials are no help, for though they have sworn to uphold the laws of their community and their state, they refuse to see the evidence on all hands of these shady practices. The townspeople themselves are no help, for many of them believe falsely that such activities are of benefit to Virginia Beach and the county, and many others just do not care.

The Governor himself is no help. Recently, a law abiding citizen, a man with a home, children, and a business here, has turned over to us correspondence which he has had with Governor Battle on the subject. He received the brush-off politico—he came face to face with the Great Stymie!

In his first letter to Governor Battle, this citizen made some serious charges, based on fact. He called to Governor Battle's attention the fact that not only local laws but State laws were being ignored; he said that "it is evident that the local constabulary either will not or cannot cope with this lawlessness."

This man is not a fanatic. He, even as you and I, likes his fun. But he is an intelligent man, and he has looked beyond the local merchants' tiny cut of the slot-machine profits or the innocent fun of the elderly widow has with her nightly bingo games, and has seen that where corruption exists in a community, the breakdown of all law enforcement and all self respect is imminent.

To this man's letter, Governor John Stewart Battle replied: "I regret that in your discussion of conditions at Virginia Beach that you did not particularize to the extent of supplying tangible information upon which enforcement action could be taken. As you know, the primary responsibility for law enforcement in this State rests upon the local authority. I understand it has been the policy of the Governor's office in past years to respond readily to any request from local authorities for assistance in law enforcement. That will continue to be the policy under my administration, and as evidenced in the recent coal mining areas in Virginia, it also will be my purpose to see to it that the State's obligations in these matters is discharged where local authorities are unwilling to properly enforce the law..."

The Great Stymie! Well, our friend did as the Honorable John Stewart Battle suggested. He said: "...I cannot subscribe to the theory that when known conditions of a criminal nature exist that it be the duty of the individual citizen to establish the case legally before the law enforcement agencies will even make an investigation..." He particularized. He named names and addresses, he sent press clippings from the Norfolk newspapers suggesting that all was not as it should be. That letter was dated May 11, 1950. To date he has received no acknowledgment from the Governor.

The Great Stymie!

LIFE'S COMMENTS

Below are some quotable comments in Life Magazine's article on U. S. Gambling which we trust the good citizens of the town and county will memorize:

"In any city where gambling exists the odds are 1,000 to one that the police department knows the addresses and owners of every joint in town. The reason the joints stay open is always just one thing: graft, paid either to the police, the city officials or the political machines, and in some cases all three. The U. S. is full of policemen, sheriffs and prosecuting attorneys who have built mansions, bought yachts or loaded their safe deposit boxes to bursting. It is also full of city political machines which have grown so rich and powerful from gambling graft that it will take a mighty effort by decent citizens to knock them out."

"All gambling games, without exception, are rigged against the public; nobody, no matter how many lucky streaks he may have, can possibly come out ahead in the long run..." "In fact the slot machine is the biggest sucker trap in gambling, and has been even since the first mechanical contrivance of its kind was invented in 1895..." The current machines, on which the mathematical chances of hitting a jackpot are one in 2,667—and which can be set so as never to hit a jackpot at all—are almost as larcenous."

LOOKING BACK

TWENTY-THREE YEARS AGO — JUNE 10, 1927

The Virginia Beach Weekly for June 24, 1927, headlined the conviction by a jury of State Game Warden Floyd Mercer for the slaying of Lee Waterfield, a duck hunter. The case had caused considerable indignation in the county. Two other game wardens, W. L. Elsie and J. T. Capps, involved in the slaying, were to be tried at separate later dates.

An ordinance prohibiting the parking of automobiles on the paved streets of the town went into effect. Only exception was on 17th Street between Atlantic and Pacific Avenues, where cars might park at a 45 degree angle.

Hotels on the Beach were reporting full houses and activities on the Beach were numerous. One of the features of the Retail Merchants' Convention held during the week was the bathing beauty contest. Both winners were Norfolk girls—Miss Leah Cohen, who became "Miss Virginia", and Miss Thelma Maynard runner-up.

Princess Anne County, bordering on an era of vast prosperity and development was pictured by J. Edwin Smith, Commonwealth's Attorney for Princess Anne County in an address before the local Rotary Club.

"Have we got it straight now? I move that the report of the development committee be dispensed with. Joe here seconds the motion, and you, Pete, try to look disappointed."

Reserve Officers of CAC May Train with National Guard

Vacation Church School to Hold Final Exercises Tonight

Exercise tonight will bring to a close the two-week Vacation Church School which was conducted this summer at the Ocean Methodist Church. The program will begin at 8 o'clock at the church.

The school, which had an enrollment of 50 children from four to fifteen years of age, was under the direction of Mrs. L. S. Elshaw.

The Kindergarten Department was led by Mrs. W. B. Godfrey, assisted by Miss Betty Lee Saunders, Miss Cordelia Scott and Miss Betty Jane Godfrey. They studied "The World About Us."

The Primary Department took as its subject of study "Outdoors in Palestine," and was led by Mrs. W. M. Harnburgh, assisted by Miss Mildred Nell Godfrey and Mrs. D. E. Harrell.

In the Junior Department the course "Followers of Jesus" was studied, and was led by Mrs. Anna B. West, assisted by Mrs. Irvin Evans.

Mrs. A. S. Hollowell had charge of the Intermediate Department, in which they studied "Living Together in Today's World."

Handicraft work done during the school will be on display during the closing program.

Parents and friends are urged to attend the exercises.

Just one year after the first liberty ship keel had been laid, the U. S. had reached the point of turning out new ships faster than our enemies could destroy them in World War II.

KIPTOPKE FERRY TERMINAL CUTS CROSSING TIME

The opening of the Eastern Shore ferry terminal at Kiptopke cuts the trip across Chesapeake Bay to Norfolk, and travel on the north-south ocean highway by half an hour, according to the Virginia Travel Council. $2,750,000 will be spent in the construction of improved facilities by the Virginia Ferry Corporation.

Kite Demonstration Planned by Bean's

Bean's Sporting Goods Shop at 2510 Atlantic Avenue will sponsor a demonstration of various sizes of the Regatta kite on Saturday. Location of the demonstration, probably on the ocean front, may be obtained by phoning Bean's.

(Virginia Beach 799)

The Regatta kite is the first man-made, heavier-than-air contraption ever to fly. The kite is a large cloth square with shrouds that much like those on a parachute. Filled by a breeze, it soars like the standard right kite, but with a maximum of stability, efficiency and maneuverability.

CAMERA TOURS PLANNED AT WILLIAMSBURG

Visitors to Williamsburg will find a new wrinkle in the famous American pastime of sightseeing.

According to the Virginia Travel Council, camera tours of from one and a half to two hours duration cover the eastern and western halves of the town on alternate days. Not only does the camera fan get expert advice on matters photographic, but sightseers in general get an artistic slant on this colonial capital they otherwise would not achieve.

An Admiral Dwyer called into Manila Bay during the Spanish-American War, he was reported to have said, "With the help of God and a few Marines, the victory will be ours." It was.

Boice Studios Adds Movies to Services

Boice Studios has added a new feature to its list of photographic services—making 8 or 16 millimeter home motion pictures of special events, parties, weddings, receptions and all of the occasions when home movies are desired.

So far, weddings and children have been the most popular subjects for movies by Boice, but it is anticipated that parties, banquets, beach parties and other special events will become equally in demand.

Rear Admiral Robert D. Workman, Chief of Navy Chaplains during World War II, first served his country as an enlisted Marine from 1905 to 1909.

BRANDON OWEN TO FURBER

Brandon, in Prince George County, is the fifth of the famous lower James River plantations to announce that it will be open to the public the year round. The present house was built in 1770, the original land grant having been made to John Martin, companion of Captain John Smith, on his first voyage to America. The estate, with its superb gardens extending to the river, is located 45 miles east of Richmond.

SPORT FISHING GUIDE OUT

The Virginia Travel Council, at Richmond, has announced the publication of a free guide to sport fishing in Virginia. The booklet lists the names of more than 150 boat owners throughout Tidewater

Virginia who cater to sport fishing parties. It also carries data on freshwater sport fishing throughout the state and on legal requirements for such fishing.

"Hash marks" are the Navy's name for the red and gold service stripes on an enlisted man's sleeve.

If wishes were REFRIGERATORS

—YOU might have designed the new electric models your dealer is ready to show you!

IT'S NOT LIKELY that many homemakers are engineers. Yet hardly a housewife hasn't wished that she could design "the refrigerator of tomorrow!"

Well, ladies—you know that American industry can produce almost anything you wish for. And they've designed the new electric refrigerators with the features YOU want most: more and separate space for frozen food storage; more space for tall bottles—milk, water, and yes, club soda! Non-defrosting and automatic defrosting! Dry and moist cold areas! More adjustable shelf space! And more cubic feet of usable space with no increase in floor space!

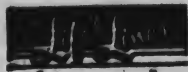

Many of the new electric refrigerators use as much as 50% LESS operating current! They save food, time, work AND money!

Noted Authority on Organic Gardening To Lecture Here

Dr. Eyster Being Sponsored by Junior Woman's Club

Interest is running high in the forthcoming lectures to be presented by Dr. William H. Eyster, outstanding authority on organic gardening. The members of the Princess Anne County Junior Woman's Club are sponsoring the speaker, and the public is invited to attend his discussions without admission charge. They will be held Monday, June 26, at 3 p.m. at the Town Hall and Wednesday, June 28 at 8 p.m. at the Cavalier Hotel ballroom.

Dr. Eyster's talks will be of interest to all local residents, as he explains ways of gardening without artificial chemicals and poison sprays and stresses gardening according to nature's ways. He is current editor of Organic Gardening publications and his education and background warrant the position he holds in the field of gardening scientists.

Educated both here and abroad, Dr. Eyster spent many years as a professor teaching in college. He is especially well known for his creation of new hybrid plants, including Burpee's red and gold hybrid marigolds, odorless marigolds, hybrid sweet nasturtiums and hybrid sweet and field corns.

Farming without the erosion of soils will be another topic which the speaker will take up. He is secretary of the Soil and Health Foundation and scientific advisor to National Soil Conservation, Inc. He is listed in "Who's Who in America," "Who's Who in the East," "Who's Who in Science," and "Who's Who in The World."

Girl Scouts Hold Court of Awards

Troop 200, Girl Scouts, held a Court of Awards and its final meeting of the year at the Atwater Hotel on Monday evening. The affair, a mother-daughter party, was highlighted by the presentation of badges.

Entertainment, consisting of songs and games on the lawn, was followed by refreshments of a large cake emblazoned with the Girl Scout insignia, and punch and candy.

Mrs. Glenn Dill is troop leader, assisted by Mrs. L. Dickens, Jr., and Mrs. Eugene Patton.

Stock Car Races Prove Popular at Beach Speedway

The variety of classes of stock car racing which has proven so popular at the Virginia Beach Speedway will be presented again this week.

Before an estimated crowd of 1800, Rudy Hires last Sunday displayed some real driving skill as he walked away with the victory in the feature 25-lap event by more than a full lap. Rudy's only competition in the field of 15 cars was Bus Barnett, who broke an axle in the early stages of the fight and was slowed down substantially.

The biggest thrill of the afternoon came when Mrs. Buck Latham skidded on the straightaway and turned completely over three times only to come out of the mishap without a scratch. Miss Vera G. Sadler took this race from the field of five ladies.

Curtis Estes took his second straight win in the sportsman's race for convertibles and Ira Lee Sadler won the pick-up truck event.

Jack Thornton, promoter, is planning the same kind of show for this Sunday in addition to having many more drivers present. Time trials begin at 1:30 and the first 10-lap heat is 2:30 p.m.

A non-commissioned officer of the United States Marine Corps is in command of the native Fita Pita guard on American Samoa.

Demand for Meat Continues High; Stock Prices Up

High demand for meat, and rapidly advancing prices for livestock during the last two months, are reported by George Herring, animal husbandman at V. P. I.

Prices of hogs moved up nearly $3.50 per 100 pounds between mid-April and mid-May. Prices of the top grades of cattle have been steady, while other grades of slaughter steers, stockers and feeders, and cows advanced in price. Prices of all grades and classes of cattle were higher in May than a year ago.

Mr. Herring says there may be some reaction from the rapid rise in meat animal prices, but that some advances are likely later in the summer. Hog prices are expected to rise, as supplies make their seasonal decline in late July and August. Lamb prices usually drop some in July, largely because of increased supplies, and rise again thereafter. The drop in price this year may be less than usual.

Corn cattle, and hogs from the spring pig crop, will account for an increase in meat supplies in the fall. Prices of feeder cattle next fall will hinge largely on feed production and grazing conditions. Another large corn crop in the U. S. will mean continued good demand for feeder cattle.

In view of the situation, Herring advises stockmen to: Take advantage of good summer prices. It's a good time to cull from the beef or dairy herd. Dispose of animals no longer useful when they reach a fairly good finish off grass. Spread out the marketing of grass finished cattle, rather than sell all of them at the end of the grazing season, to help prevent market glut in the fall.

Push spring pigs rapidly for the late summer or early fall market.

Chesapeake Beach Woman's Club Holds Final Meeting of Season

The Woman's Club of Chesapeake Beach held its last meeting of the season on June 13 at the Chesapeake Beach Community House.

Invitation to participate in the Princess Anne County Fair parade, extended by the board of directors of the fair, was announced.

The president, Mrs. L. L. Dillon, announced that a letter had been addressed to the State Corporation Commission protesting the increase in telephone rates, particularly on multiple lines such as the 10 and 12 party lines in rural areas. This action was in conjunction with the protest registered by the Princess Anne County Civic Council of which the Woman's Club is a member.

The group decided to hold its eleventh anniversary luncheon on October 3, the time and place to be announced later.

A gift of $45 was presented to the Woman's Club by a member, $10 of which will be sent to CARE, $10 will be donated to the Migrant Workers Fund, and $25.00 will be used to send three packages to World Friendship Among Children.

The club also received as a gift a Gen. Duplicator, donated by James A. Mills, Sr. Mrs. Mills is a new member of the club.

A program was presented by Mrs. E. L. King, as follows: Mrs. R. W. Sprull, in the absence of Mrs. Henry Heddy, citizenship chairman, gave the history of the Flag of the United States of America and conducted ceremonies in observance of Flag Day, June 14.

T. Vellines.

A vocal solo by Mrs. R. S. Mullin, accompanied by Mrs. H. W. Newsome, preceded the showing of fashions designed and modeled by members and friends of the club.

Rose Chafer Causes Heavy Damage to Blossoming Plants

Heavier-than-usual infestations of the rose chafer, which annually causes widespread damage to Virginia flower gardens, are reported by A. G. Smith, associate horticulturist at V. P. I.

The insect doesn't confine its activities to roses. It also feeds on peonies, irises, fruits, and just about everything that's in bloom.

When the chafers first appear, spray or dust with DDT. Make applications every three or four days as conditions justify. Rain, temperature, and the number of insects may affect the frequency of applications.

If you dust, use a 3 or 5 per cent DDT dust, alone, or in combination with rotenone or sulphur.

If you spray, use a preparation of one ounce of 50 per cent wettable DDT powder in three gallons of water or bordeaux mixture; or, two ounces of 25 per cent wettable DDT powder in three POWER? Sure! Here's a whole bonnetful of Fireball straight-eight power.

Room? Plenty—in big, sofa-wide seats and generous room for elbows and shoulders.

Style? Well take a look—see anything on the road today that is so smart, so sleek, so quickly spotted?

But that's just a start in this beauty. Here you're going to meet the "ride of a lifetime"—smooth, level-going comfort in the quite matchless Buick manner.

Just see why this is so:

Most cars have coil springs in front. Buick has them all around.

Most cars now ride on low-pressure tires. Buick adds to them Safety-Ride rims to cut heel-over and sway.

Most cars drive through the rear springs, which means they have to be stiff. Buick drives through a firm torque-tube that takes up driving thrust and roughness.

And no other car—no, not a single one—has all these comfort extras plus husky frames plus Hi-Poised engine mountings plus middle-of-the-car seating plus the extra silkiness of Dynaflo Drive. *Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

Optional equipment, state and local taxes, if any, additional. Prices may vary slightly in adjoining communities due to shipping charges. All prices subject to change without notice.

Worth something? You bet it is: But it's riding luxury that doesn't show up in the price tags. Figures start at levels lower than on many sizes—yet every Buick has this matchless array of ride features.

Better come learn about them—by firsthand trial. Can you see you dealer today?

Laundering Institute Offers Advice on Turkish Towels

Sampson's strength was in his hair; that's a well-known fact. Unlike Sampson, the strength of a Turkish towel is in the backbone or ground weave of the towel. That's something many women don't know, or so says the American Institute of Laundering, research and educational center for the laundry industry.

Women with no knowledge of this hidden towel strength fail to examine the fabric underneath the loops of a terry towel which makes up the ground weave or underweave. Yet, according to the Institute, it is this ground or underweave which best indicates how well the towel will wear.

What this underweave does is to hold the towel loops in place, take the strain of pulling which accompanies towel use, and act in the capacity of a sponge in absorbing water from the surface. Only an underweave which is firm to the touch, closely and tightly woven, will impart strength to a Turkish towel and hold the loops securely.

About the best place to check on the quality of the underweave is in the plain portion of the towel where there is an area without loops and the fabric weave can be easily seen. This area is usually found near the hem or in the border of the towel. In the case of a towel with a design, in the base spots on the back of the towel.

Holding a terry towel up to the light will give some indication of the strength or weakness of the

Mountain Training Offered Virginia Reserve Officers

Virginia Reserve officers can take a two-week course in mountain training at Camp Carson, Colorado, between July 22 and September 2, the Virginia Military District has announced.

Applicants for the course must be under 40 years of age, physically qualified, and preferably company grade officers of combat arms, although field grade officers who meet the age and physical requirements are eligible.

underweave. Tiny and regular pin points of light will shine through a weave that is uniform and good. But light will show through unevenly in a loose inferior underweave. The better the construction of the towel, the less light that will shine through, though more light will, of course, shine through white towels than colored ones.

Reserve officers should send their applications to unit instructors, so that they will reach the Virginia Military District Headquarters not less than 40 days prior to the beginning of classes.

CCC Distributes Excess Butter, Cheese Stocks

Fifteen million pounds of butter and five million pounds of cheese, owned by the Commodity Credit Corporation, have been offered free at point of storage to school lunchrooms, to eleemosynary institutions, and to public and private welfare agencies, by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

A substantial quantity of these commodities will come into Virginia, according to R. B. Bridgforth, state chairman of the Production and Marketing Administration Committee. He said that the butter and cheese was acquired by CCC under mandatory price support purchase programs.

that the 44½ billion in all taxes collected by the Federal Government last year came from these sources: 44½ per cent from personal incomes taxes, 28½ per cent from corporation income taxes, 6 per cent from social security taxes and the balance of 21 per cent from a great variety of excise and miscellaneous taxes.

A tax study issued this month by the Brookings Institution, an impartial research organization, revealed that three fifths of all manufacturing corporations take the corporate income tax into account in determining the prices of their products. This means that the consumer pays a large part of corporation taxes too.

Ernest Breech, executive vice president of the Ford Motor Co., in reply to a question whether the price of cars would go down if his company's taxes were cut, said:

"Certainly it would cut prices. In the long run, every corporation must price its products so as to make a reasonable return after taxes in order to survive and grow. In the final analysis, income taxes are just as much a cost of doing business as payroll."

A group of Congressmen, doing some rough figuring on their own recently, concluded that a family of three persons with an income of $3,000 pays $201.60 of that income in corporation income taxes which are included in the prices of the things they buy. A family of four with an income of $5,000 pays $318.80, and the same sized family with an income of $7,500 pay $414.

The one millionth Studebaker built since the end of the war is driven from the company's South Bend, Ind., plant by Harold S. Vance, chairman and president, as he gets the "take it away" signal from F. O. Peterson, vice president in charge of manufacturing. Growth of the No. 1 independent among automobile manufacturers is reflected in the fact that it took from 1909 to 1948 to build 1,000,000 new Studebaker passenger cars and trucks. The postwar million was launched in late 1948.

Mr. Bridgforth noted that recipients will be required to pay shipping and handling costs from storage points, and must agree (1) to distribute the commodities only to those whom the agencies determine to be eligible under approved program outlets, and (2) not to reduce their normal food expenditures because of receipt of the donated foods.

Distribution of the butter and cheese will be handled by George M. Blake, director of Commodity Distribution, State Department of Agriculture, Richmond. In order to keep freight costs to a minimum, Mr. Blake said that insofar as possible, he would fill orders from Government stocks located in nearby states, especially North Carolina, Tennessee, and Kentucky.

Full information on the commodities, including other available items such as potatoes, dried eggs, and powdered milk, and details for handling may be obtained by interested agencies from Mr. Blake's office.

Survey Shows Business Taxes Fall Eventually on Consumer

The influence of taxes on the American family will be uppermost in the minds of members of Congress for the next few weeks. They are seeking the answer to his 664 question:

How can they satisfy increasing public demands for tax reduction and at the same time find other taxes to offset such a reduction? Their problem is made doubly hard by the fact that Uncle Sam wants to spend $5½ billion above his income next year.

The Council of State Chambers of Commerce points up the problem in a special study by its Washington research staff. It found

Supervisors to Ask Additional Secondary Road Mileage; Hear Complaint of "Hell Raising"

North End of Beach To Be Patrolled by Jeep Longer Hours

The Princess Anne Board of Supervisors will seek a conference with General James Anderson, head of the State Highway Department, to endeavor to get an increased mileage of roads to be added annually to the secondary system in the county. According to a highway department ruling, new roads are limited to one per cent of the total mileage annually, which puts allowable new roads at 3.1 miles a year. Supervisors contend that they have requests for 40 miles now on the books that are vitally needed.

E. D. Hubbard, resident engineer for the State Highway Department, who met with the supervisors at their June meeting, told a delegation requesting a bridge over Mannys Creek in Back Bay that "as far as I am concerned the bridge will be put in."

A tentative budget for secondary roads in the county amounting to $289,023 for the 1950-51 fiscal year was approved. This represents an increase of less than $1,000 over last year's figure. The supervisors will request a conference with the State Highway Commission heads to discuss increasing the allocation.

North End of Beach "Hot Spot"

After-midnight beach parties at the north end of Virginia Beach may be forced to curb their alleged "all night rowdiness" and "hell raising" in the future.

Chief Ivan Mapp, of the Princess Anne County Police, said that the law enforcement jeep which patrols the beach between sundown and 3 a.m. will extend its rounds until sunup in the future.

Commonwealth's Attorney P. W. Ackles suggested that two uniformed men on motorcycles patrol North Virginia Beach which, he said, has a density of population now which would make such an assignment wise.

The supervisors took favorable action on a petition from 35 beer tavern owners in the Shore Drive area requesting extension of the beer curfew from 11 p.m. to midnight. The police department was instructed to see that the law is enforced if the ABC Board grants the requested extension.

Discrimination Ban Asked

A bill to outlaw some forms of advertised discrimination was passed on first reading by the supervisors.

Advertising of a public accommodation, resort or place of amusement which would discriminate against any race excepting that which otherwise is restricted by the law was brought under fire. It would not affect existing racial measures.

The advertisements were termed "a public nuisance," and punishment was fixed at a $500 fine, 30 days in jail, or both.

Walter Maher, supervisor from the Lynnhaven District, proposed the ordinance and the supervisors approved it unanimously. It will come up at the July meeting for final approval.

Theatre-Go-Round Opens Season With Comedy 'Clutterback'

Virginia Beach's tent stock theatre, the Theatre-Go-Round, will open its ten-week season Thursday night with the comedy "Clutterback."

The tent theatre is located on 31st Street. The management plans a series of plays, largely comedy, which will run a week each.

Robert O'Flaherty and his wife, Lesley Savage, owners of the Theatre-Go-Round, are bringing a cast of New York players to the Beach to take part in the plays.

Harness Racing Returns to County Saturday Night

Races for Trotters, Pacers to Be Held at New P. A. Raceway

Harness racing makes its long awaited return to Princess Anne County tomorrow night, July 1, at the New Princess Anne Raceway, on the Kempsville Road, near the Military Highway.

Races for trotters and pacers will be held every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday throughout the summer with post time at 8:15 o'clock.

Eight heats will be held nightly, with two heats making up one complete race. Six horses will race in each heat.

Some of the top harness horses and drivers are on hand for the opening of the track. Many of the drivers to date have arrived from Northern tracks such as those in Harrington, Del., Rosecroft (near Washington, D. C.), and at Laurel, Md.

Nearly 100 horses have already arrived.

Three United States Trotting Association officials are on hand to conduct the races this summer. O. C. Enler, President and Racing Secretary of the Raceway, recently arrived from Steubenville, Ohio, where he was race secretary; Phil Harcum, of Waverly, Va., will be the presiding judge; and Beekun Smith, of Moon, Va., will be the official starter.

"The Common Glory" To Begin Fourth Season Saturday, July 1

After three weeks of fast-paced rehearsals and intensive preparation in the amphitheatre at Lake Matoaka, Williamsburg, by the technical staff of the production, "The Common Glory," Paul Green's symphonic drama of the founding of the Republic, which has become a national summer institution, will open its fourth season Saturday evening, July 1, at 8:15 o'clock for a two-and-a-half months' run.

"The Common Glory" is produced by the Jamestown Corporation and co-sponsored by the Virginia Department of Conservation and Development. It will be performed nightly beginning July 1 for eight consecutive nights, and nightly thereafter except Mondays for the rest of the season, through Saturday, September 16. There are no matinees.

The sweeping outdoor drama of the American Revolution, which has been seen by a quarter of a million playgoers from the 48 States and many foreign countries, is performed in a specially built amphitheatre on the shores of Lake Matoaka, which Robert Edmond Jones, no. 5 stage designer, has called the most beautiful outdoor theatrical setting in the world.

"The Common Glory" tells the story of the resistance in the Virginia Peninsula in the 1770's to the tyranny from overseas, which flamed first into open rebellion and finally into revolution under the leadership of Thomas Jefferson.

The role of Jefferson, leading character of "The Common Glory," will be played by Laurence Hugo, of the New York stage, who has a long list of Broadway appearances to his credit. He began his career with Gladys George in "The Distant City," played the lead in Edward G. Robinson's "Decision," and also appeared in two of the decade's top hits, "Skin of Our Teeth," with Fredric March

Bird Neck Garden Club Celebrates First Anniversary

Mrs. E. L. Fosse was hostess at a birthday luncheon for the Bird Neck Garden Club to celebrate the first anniversary of the founding of the club.

The two-tiered birthday cake shared honors with a floral centerpiece in shades of mauve, rose, and lavender, snapdragons and baby's breath.

Mrs. Jesse White installed officers for the coming year. The meeting marked the last meeting until September, with the exception of a special called meeting to be held sometime during the summer for officers and committee chairmen. Notification will go individually to those who will attend.

and Talulah Bankhead, and "Born Yesterday" with Paul Douglas and Judy Holiday.

"The Common Glory" in reality has two feminine leads, in the role of Patty Jefferson, appealing wife of the great Virginian, and Eileen Gordon, daughter of a Tory planter who is in love with a young Virginia frontiersman, Hugh Taylor.

Patty Jefferson will be played by Betty Lee Loke, of Raleigh, and Eileen Gordon by Mary Ellison, both of Norfolk, both of whom have had experience in college theatrical productions. The part of Hugh Taylor will be played by William H. Lacey, Jr., of the University of Virginia School of Law. The role of Patrick Henry will be played by Richard Hanna Hadley, of the faculty of Randolph Macon Women's College. His wife, Dorothy Seidenburg Hadley, of the Sweet Briar faculty, will be seen as Martha Carr.

The entire ensemble of the symphonic drama—so called because it blends all of the arts of the theatre, acting, singing, music, dancing, pantomime, romance, history, and comedy—numbers about 150, including a choir of 32 matched voices.

The entire production is staged under the personal supervision of Pulitzer Prize playwright Paul Green. John Baird, veteran Broadway director, is in charge of overall direction of the drama, assisted by Howard Scammon as associate director; Roger Sherman, production manager; Albert Haek, technical director; Anthony Manzi, stage manager; Susanne Sherman (Mrs. Roger Sherman), costume designer; Carl A. Fehr, musical director; and John Satterfield, orchestra conductor.

Other outdoor symphonic dramas by Paul Green include "The Lost Colony," now entering its tenth season at Manteo, N. C., and "Faith of Our Fathers," drama of the founding of the nation's capital, to be presented at Rock Creek Amphitheatre, Washington, D. C., next month.

News Day Earlier This Week

The Virginia Beach News, which is published on Fridays, is appearing a day earlier this week due to the fact that part of the staff has been subpoenaed to appear before the Grand Jury now in session. The Grand Jury was called to investigate charges of gambling in Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach.

Supervisors Get County Health Report for May

The county nurses made a total of 71 visits, 53 of them in maternal and child health, and 12 in tuberculosis control.

Seventeen venereal disease investigations were made; 459 visits in environmental sanitation; 63 laboratory examinations in connection with sanitation; 11 sewer connections inspected; 81 septic tanks approved; 95 restaurant inspections made; and 14 complaints investigated.

Listed under clinic activities were: 110 visits by mothers, infants, and pre-school children; 22 visits by patients to venereal disease clinics; 294 X-rays taken; and 190 immunizations made for smallpox, diphtheria and whooping cough.

In his report to the supervisors, Dr. Garrett stated: "Headquarters of the Princess Anne County Health Department are inadequate and improperly located for maximum service to residents of Princess Anne County. I am very anxious that a modern health center be constructed. The State Health Department is desirous that a health center be erected in Princess Anne County and will participate in the undertaking by at least 50 per cent of the total cost. The building will be owned by the county."

A suggested location for the health center would be on the Virginia Beach Boulevard a few miles west of Oceana.

Judge Kellam Calls Special Grand Jury to Investigate Charges of Lawlessness

P. A. County Fair At Seaside Park September 7-10

The Princess Anne County Fair, being sponsored by the Woman's Club of Princess Anne County and the Princess Anne Ruritan Club, will be held September 7, 8, 9, 10, at Seaside Park.

In a recent meeting of the Board of Directors, chairmen of various committees were present, and plans were formulated which will make the Fair one of the most colorful events of the early Fall.

W. P. Kellam has been named chairman of entertainment, and civic organizations are planning to participate in the opening-day parade of the Fair.

Mrs. Alice Brewer White, woman's director of WTAR, will be radio chairman and fashion director of the Fair.

Premium lists for prizes will be released in the near future. "We hope that all residents of Princess Anne County will take an active interest in the Fair, which is a community project," a spokesman for the group said.

Jaycees Commend Judge Kellam in Calling Grand Jury

The Princess Anne County-Virginia Beach Junior Chamber of Commerce went on record Tuesday night as favoring law enforcement and a clean-up of Virginia Beach.

The resolution, which was passed unanimously, commended Judge Floyd E. Kellam for his move in naming a Grand Jury to investigate charges that gambling, illegal sale of whiskey, indecent exposure and other lawlessness exists on Virginia Beach and in Princess Anne County.

The meeting was the regular dinner meeting of the Jaycees, held at the American Legion home in Laskin Road.

Other business which came before the group was making final plans for the State Junior Golf Tournament which is to be held at Virginia Beach July 5, 6 and 7, and the bench program, a continuing Jaycee project.

The American Flag was first raised in the dark continent of Africa in 1935 by U. S. Marines over the pirate stronghold of Tripoli.

"Don't Make Roman Holiday of Our Fourth of July Week-end"

"Don't make a Roman Holiday of our Fourth of July week-end" is the plea from Col. C. W. Woodson, Jr., superintendent of State Police and executive chairman of the Governor's Highway Safety Committee, as Virginia motorists prepared to throng the highways in what will be for many a four-day vacation.

Col. Woodson went on to explain that, while the Ancient Romans enjoyed their days off watching gladiators kill each other and human beings thrown to the lions, Americans manage to stay several hundred people with motor vehicles whenever there is an extended holiday.

Col. Woodson stated that we were fortunate in that our 1949 Fourth of July week-end was the best since 1942 with only seven deaths but that this year he feared a repetition of the ghastly Memorial Day holiday which saw 19 Virginia traffic deaths.

Speed, impatience and drinking were cited by the safety official as the human failings combining with abnormally heavy traffic to cause these absolutely unnecessary tragedies. He pointed to the high

Dick Jurgens Band Opens Tonight at Cavalier Club

Tennis, Golf and Swimming Meets Scheduled

Dick Jurgens, one of the nation's best loved band leaders, will bring his aggregation of talented musicians to the Cavalier Beach and Cabana Club tonight, June 30, for a two-week's engagement, according to Sidney Banks of the Cavalier Hotel.

Jurgens, whose band features such singing stars as Al Galante and Ray McIntosh, comes direct from the West Coast for this limited engagement. His debut here will inaugurate daily tea dancing on the club's spacious show-bout open air dance deck overlooking the Atlantic with nightly dancing under starlit skies.

The children's playground adjacent to the club finds the "small fry" in their glory with four gentle pet ponies and a galaxy of slides and beach toys for their amusement—a boon to vacationing parents who can enjoy adult pleasures while their children play under the careful supervision of a registered nurse—all without extra charge.

Activities at the Cavalier Yacht and Country Club where many sail going yachts and cruisers are coming and going daily will witness one of the nation's most unique tournaments, the third annual Payton Memorial, scheduled for July 10 and 11 in honor of the late George Payton, of Hampton, one of Virginia's best loved and most promising young golfers before his tragic accident. The tournament is open to any young man, irrespective of residence, who is 24 years of age or less as of July 1. Entries can be mailed direct to the club.

Major tennis matches will take place during July and August, as well as golf and indoor swim meets.

WALTER C. JOHNSON, JR. ON HEADMASTER'S LIST AT FORK UNION ACADEMY

Col. Harry M. Waldron, Headmaster of Fork Union Military Academy has announced that Cadet Walter C. Johnson, Jr., of 322 17th Street, Virginia Beach, made the Academy's Headmaster's List for the semester recently completed.

Incidence of cases in which a car goes out of control and overturns, strikes some object off the road or goes into the wrong traffic lane to strike another car. These, he said, are caused by nothing but too much speed.

Motorists in a hurry to get to their destinations and back in the shortest possible time will speed and take hair-raising chances while the perils of this situation, he continued, are heightened by tired and drinking drivers.

Col. Woodson was equally alarmed at our present high rate of pedestrian deaths and reminded walkers that, no matter who is at fault, physical consequences of a collision with a motor vehicle are almost certain to be severe for the person involved.

In closing, he asked motorists to insure their lives and those of others with a little extra time on the road, constant vigilance and proper physical condition for driving. While he predicted no intensive "crackdown" on offenders, Col. Woodson said that the Department of State Police will follow its normal policy of uniform enforcement with all available personnel patrolling the highways.

Judge Kellam Charges Jury

In making Kellam charged them to investigate fully charges of gambling, illegal whiskey sales, nude entertainers, slot machines, and an alleged "bag man, the collector from the gamblers." He furnished the jurors with clippings from newspaper stories and editorials.

"All of these charges are serious and should be investigated fully, and gentlemen, please do not hesitate to indict anyone and all who may be guilty of these charges."

Father Brennan Leaving Beach After 25 Years

The Rev. Philip P. Brennan, for 25 years pastor of the Star of the Sea Catholic Church, has been transferred to Berkeley Springs, West Virginia. Farewells were spoken by his parishioners at a service in his honor held last night at the Parish House.

Michael Heneghan presented Monsignor Joseph P. Govaert, pastor of St. Paul's Catholic Church, Portsmouth, dean of the Catholic clergy in Tidewater Virginia, who presented Father Brennan.

Father Brennan has expressed regret that he is leaving Virginia Beach, but added: "It was my request that I go. Much as I love Virginia Beach, the responsibilities of the church are too great for my health."

Father Brennan will be succeeded by Father Habet, who is from Portsmouth's Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church.

CONGRATULATIONS TO JUDGE KELLAM

The Virginia Beach News wants to join with the Junior Chamber of Commerce in extending to Judge Kellam our hearty congratulations for his fearlessness in calling a Special Grand Jury investigation of wide-open gambling and illegal whiskey sales at Virginia Beach and in Princess Anne County.

His charge to the Jury gave them free latitude to call witnesses and investigate thoroughly the situation which undoubtedly exists.

The Jaycees, realizing the seriousness of the threat to good government and the well being of our community and being fully cognizant of conditions as they are, have passed a resolution offering their assistance in any manner possible and their full support to conduct a real investigation.

THE GRAND JURY INVESTIGATION

The News, being in the position of having labored long and hard to expose the malignant growth of gambling, illegal whiskey selling, and special privilege to break the law that obtains where certain individuals are concerned, also wants to offer its full support to the Grand Jury now in session.

Since shortly after we began our campaign, we have been persona non grata in the gambling rooms and nip joints, and in the clubs where one may obtain a drink of whiskey. Moreover, since we have condemned these places, we did not believe that we should patronize them.

Hence, we have had to rely for the most part on witnesses. But throughout we have taken the testimony of persons whose integrity is beyond question, persons who have not only our respect but that of the community.

The Grand Jury is, we believe, sincerely and honestly bent upon uncovering proof of the allegations presented them by Judge Floyd E. Kellam when he instructed the jurors prior to their hearing of witnesses. Therefore, we offer them, if they so desire it in their search for proof, the names and addresses of our sources of information who have actually placed bets on the horses, who have actually purchased whiskey by the drink contrary to law, who have actually attended the "nude" floor shows, who have actually played the slot machines or seen them, and who have actually seen the gambling rooms in action.

Judge Kellam was wise in picking men for his Grand Jury with high standing in the county and the whole Tidewater area for their ability. We are putting our trust in them to live up to the high opinion which their fellow Virginians hold of them, one and all. We hope that they will not let petty considerations blind them to the evidence apparent to all of the very situation they are investigating, evidence some of them must have seen as residents in the community.

FATHER PHILIP BRENNAN

The transfer of Father Philip Brennan, for many years parish priest at Our Lady Star of the Sea Catholic Church, to a church at Berkley Springs, West Virginia, will leave a great void in the hearts of many at Virginia Beach.

Not only his own parishioners but everyone who knows him loves and respects Father Brennan, and wish him well in his new home.

Father Brennan has said that the Beach, which he loves as a second home, and the responsibilities here have grown so that his health no longer can stand the strain. His new church, in the lovely hills of West Virginia, will be the quiet home he needs.

We bid him farewell sadly, but wish for him the success that this good man deserves.

Instructions in Full

Judge Kellam's instructions in full were:

"It has been stated by some gentlemen, who are being asked to appear before you, that there is wide open gambling at Virginia Beach and in Princess Anne County in which roulette, craps and other forms of gambling, plus illegal sales of whiskey in clubs, dining rooms and other places of amusement are reputed to flourish... that there are nude entertainers in some of the clubs."

"It is also reported that there are illegal slot machines, known as the one-arm bandit, in hotels, clubs and places of amusement. It is also alleged that there is a town employee, known as the bag man, the collector from gamblers. All of these charges are serious and should be investigated fully, and gentlemen, please do not hesitate to indict anyone and all who may be guilty of these charges."

Asks Volunteer Witnesses

"I sincerely hope that those who have recently been writing letters about Virginia Beach and the violations of the law there, and who do not sign their names, will volunteer and appear before you gentlemen and give you the benefit of any information they have."

"There have been one or two editorials in a weekly newspaper with reference to gambling and this paper in one of its editorials states a citizen has turned over to the editor some correspondence in which serious charges, based upon fact, about local and State laws being ignored."

"Investigate these charges, and ask the editor of that paper to aid you in this investigation."

"I have some of the papers which quoted certain gentlemen, and I will submit them to you for your information."

Action Comes as Surprise

The Grand Jury investigation, which came as a surprise, followed on the heels of a widespread rumor that all the clubs had been ordered closed in the Virginia Beach area Monday afternoon. According to reliable sources, many of the clubs were still open Monday night, but operating on a restricted basis as to gambling. Whiskey sales were reported in a few bingo games, by law termed gambling, were reported open at five locations on the Beach. Yesterday, one of the alleged bookie establishments was closed tight; a

The press clippings furnished the Grand Jury by Judge Kellam included a letter to the editor which appeared in the Norfolk Ledger-Dispatch of June 22, which called on the citizens to wake up to the widespread gambling, and "nip-joints" the writer claimed flourished at the Beach.

Also included were copies of the Virginia Beach News of May 19, which reported a meeting of the South Virginia Beach Civic League at which candidates for posts in the June 13 town election appeared, and an editorial which appeared in the News June 23.

K. Z. Bowden, Jr., Wins Promotion in Philippine Islands

Private First Class Kearney Z. Bowden, Jr., of Virginia Beach, has recently been promoted to Corporal at Clark Air Force Base in the Philippine Islands, where for the past two months he has been assigned to the 1881st Air Service Squadron as a student Ground Controlled Approach Operator.

The 188CS in the Philippines, part of the Military Air Transport Service, is an important station in a world-wide communications network. They serve all military aircraft within their vicinity, in cooperation with the Civil Aeronautics Administration, by furnishing aircraft in flight such information as flight plans and weather forecasts; by operating the aircraft control tower; furnishing navigational aids; and by operating the Ground Controlled Approach. GCA is a ground radar system which enables pilots to make safe approach to runways during adverse weather conditions. GCA controllers determine, by use of radar, the position of the aircraft relative to the runways, and tell the pilot, by radio communication, the headings and altitudes to fly to bring the aircraft into landing position a few feet above the runway.

Corporal Bowden, a 1948 graduate of Oceana High School, enlisted in the U. S. Air Force in

Freezing Vegetables
If your vegetables taste like hay when they come out of the frozen food locker—it could be you didn't blanch them properly.
Blanching is a scalding process in which boiling water is used to destroy the enzymes present in the foods. These enzymes are what cause all the trouble. They cause the vegetables to ripen, and if not stopped, become overripe and rot. Heat will destroy enzymes, and that is the main reason we blanch. There are other reasons, too. Blanching helps reduce bulk in greens, removes the objectionable raw taste of some products, removes oxygen which also can cause spoilage, sets the color, and helps to remove some vegetable skins.

Blanching is done in boiling water for a specified time. The times vary for different vegetables. The vegetables are placed in boiling water, and the water brought back to a boil as soon as possible. It should not take longer than one minute. Use about one pound of vegetables per gallon of water, or one pound of leafy vegetables per two gallons of water. Start counting the time from the moment the water begins to boil again. Time and blanch exactly and remove from the water.

After blanching, the food must be cooled quickly. This is very important. After removing them from the boiling water, plunge the vegetables into a water bath to which ice has been added. Use ice if at all possible, but if you do not have it, use the coldest water you can obtain. Leave the vegetable in this cold water for as long a time as you blanched it. Make sure it is thoroughly cooled before you remove and package it.

If you follow these rules carefully you will have better frozen foods. Blanching times for different vegetables are listed in the bulletin "Home Freezing of Fruits and Vegetables" and "Instructions on Processing for Community Frozen-Food Locker Plants," now available from the Extension Service, V. P. I., Blacksburg, Va.

Homemakers' Items
Don't make fertilizer applications to lawns unless you intend to irrigate this summer.

That's the advice from Al Beecher, landscape gardening specialist at V. P. I., who points out that adding fertilizer now is likely to promote too much weed growth. And during the hot summer season, don't cut lawn grass too close.

Potato Growers of Md.-Del. Reject Marketing Order

The Production and Marketing Administration of the U. S. Department of Agriculture announced recently that potato growers in Delaware and counties of Worcester, Somerset, Wicomico, Dorchester, Talbot, Caroline, Queen Anne, Kent, and Cecil in Maryland have rejected a proposed marketing order in a referendum which was conducted throughout the production area during the period May 23-26, 1950, inclusive.

Therefore, the proposed marketing agreement and order program will not go into effect and as required by the law, price support on 1950 crop potatoes will not be available to Delaware and Eastern Shore of Maryland potato producers.

The Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, requires that two-thirds of the growers, or growers representing two-thirds of the volume of production, voting in a referendum must favor issuance of an order. Delaware and Eastern Shore of Maryland potato growers voting in the referendum failed to approve either by number or volume. Under Public Law 471, 81st Congress, the Department is required to deny price support on 1950 crop potatoes with respect to which marketing orders have been disapproved by producers.

The Department reported that 25 producers or 17.4 per cent of those voting favored issuance of the order. A total of 119 producers or 82.6 per cent of those voting disapproved. By volume of production 18.7 per cent favored the issuance of the order whereas 81.3 per cent were opposed. More than 41 per cent of the commercial potato producers in the production area who produced approximately 64 per cent of the potatoes last season took part on the referendum.

Alice Crenshaw Becomes Bride Of Henry C. Lühring, Jr., Saturday

a white suit, with hat and accessories and a corsage of brown orchids.

Galilee Episcopal Church was the setting Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock for the marriage of Miss Alice Beauchamp Crenshaw, daughter of Capt. Russell Sydney Crenshaw, USN (ret.), and Mrs. Crenshaw, to Henry Garrett Lühring, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Garrett Lühring. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Edmund Berkeley, rector of the church, in the presence of relatives and friends. The church was decorated with palms, white cut flowers and lighted candles. Mrs. Virginia Gatling, organist, played the wedding music.

The bride entered with her father, by whom she was given in marriage. She wore her grandmother's wedding gown of ivory moire trimmed with pearls and ribbon embroidery, and her veil of Brussels lace fell from a coronet of heirloom lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of white gladioli and stephanotis.

Mrs. James J. Southerland was her sister's matron of honor. She wore a dress of white organdy over pink taffeta, made with Peter Pan collar, tight bodice buttoned down the front with rhinestone buttons, and a bouffant skirt tucked at the hipline. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Francis N. Crenshaw and Mrs. John R. Anderson and Misses Betty and Barbara Lühring, the three sisters of the bridegroom. They wore dresses of white organdy over green taffeta and carried bouquets of yellow daisies. All of the attendants wore picture hats to match their gowns. The flower girls were Misses Sally and Betty Southerland and Virginia Crenshaw, all nieces of the bride, who wore frocks of white organdy over white taffeta, and carried Colonial bouquets of mixed flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moore, of North Arlington, N. J., arrived here Tuesday to visit Mrs. Moore's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schaefer, at their home in Rudee Heights.

Anne Lee Baum, of Danville, Wed Saturday to Alfred W. Craft, Jr.

The wedding of Miss Anne Lee Baum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julian Frost Baum, of Danville, and Alfred Whitehead Craft, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Craft, of Virginia Beach, was solemnized Saturday afternoon at the First Baptist Church in Danville. Dr. L. D. Johnson was the officiating minister.

The altar of the church was decorated with cythodium ferns, kentia palms, cathedral candles, and floral baskets of lilies and larkspur. The pews were marked with white satin ribbon and centered with lilies. Preceding the ceremony, Miss Kathryn Eskey, organist, played a program of wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of bridal cream satin fashioned with marquisette yoke embellished with a deep bertha of imported lace embroidered with seed pearls, a tight fitted bodice and long sleeves which ended in points over the hands. The full skirt of the gown extended into a circular train and her full-length veil of illusion edged with imported rose point lace, which had been worn by her mother, fell from a coronet of seed pearls. The bride's only ornament was a string of pearls, and she carried a white prayer book centered with a white orchid and showered with swansons.

Mrs. Allen Bondurant Carter, an aunt of the bride, was matron of honor, and Miss Irene Baum, a sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid.

Alfred W. Craft was best man for his son and the groomsmen were Julian F. Baum, Jr., E. Ashby Baum, brothers of the bride, William L. Myers and Vincent Barker of Virginia Beach.

DDT Dip for Fido Will Control Ticks

A DDT dip for the family dog will give effective protection against ticks in the early summer when the insects are at the height of their activity, says J. O. Rowell, entomologist at V. P. I.

It is easier to cover a dog thoroughly with DDT by dipping rather than dusting with powder, although a 10 per cent DDT powder may be used. For a weekly dip, buy 50 per cent wettable powder and use in water according to directions on the package. Usually one level tablespoonful of the powder to one gallon of water is enough.

If it is not practical to prepare a dip for Fido and her pups, a satisfactory water suspension spray can be made by mixing 4 ounces (about two tablespoonfuls) of 50 per cent wettable powder in one gallon of water. This spray can be applied with a small compressed air sprayer. Saturate the dog, and repeat the treatment about every two or three weeks during the "tick" season.

The spray is not effective after the ticks have already become attached to the dog. Use it before the dog has a chance to come in contact with the insects.

Mr. Rowell warns that DDT should never be used on the family cat. Cats are much less tolerant to this poison than dogs, and when they lick their fur they may eat enough DDT to cause illness and sometimes death.

Over 81 per cent of the commissioned officers of the Marine Corps at the present time were originally enlisted men.

In the Revolutionary War, U. S. Marines fought the British fleet on the ships of John Paul Jones, and made their first amphibious landing in 1776 on the beaches of the Bahamas.

NEVER CALL THE ICEMAN "SUGAR"

By Armed Forces Press Service
Most city folks think of the iceman in the past tense. They picture him as a dashing-if-dripping Don Juan who left muddy tracks and broken hearts in thousands of kitchens during mother's era.

In this modern era of mechanical refrigeration the people wrongly believe that the iceman is extinct. Last year, according to Francis X. Timmons, a spokesman for the National Association of Ice Industries, some 50,000,000 tons of ice were made and sold by members of the Association.

Of this total, 15 million tons were sold in private homes, delivered by icemen. In fact, says Mr. Timmons, the iceman is doing much more business now than before the mechanical refrigerator.

And the iceman is still getting involved in troubles not of his own making, of course. For example, in a midwestern city recently the iceman made a call on one of his

After they had thawed the iceman out, it developed that the iceman's name was Matthews Sugar.
